JUDGE DENIES DARK, MELTON QUASH MOTION

Cases Against Ex-Conservation Officials Set For Nov. 20

CLAIM BILL FAULTY

Counsel Attempts To Show 'Fatal Defect' In Indictment

A motion to quash indictments against W. D. Dark and Lee J. Melton, state conservation officers accused on four separate charges of bribery in connection with alleged violation of conservation department rules in the Monroe gas field, was overruled by Judge David I. Garrett in misdemeanor court here Friday morning. The cases were re-set for Monday, November 20, after rearraignment and entries of pleas of "not guilty" with reservations and without prejudice.

Filed by the defense counsel, the motion to quash the indictments returned by the Ouachita parish grand jury last June in an investigation of alleged [illegible] [illegible] declared the indictments defective and asked that the accused be excused by the court. The defense contended that the indictment itself does not charge an offense under the laws of Louisiana, that the office held by the accused when allegedly accepting the bribe is not specifically stated and that the indictment in not averring the ap- indictment in not averring the official capacity of the accused is fatally defective as a matter of law.

Dark is former manager of the Monroe office of the state conservation department, and Melton is conservation department field agent.

Withdrawing a plea of not guilty, Truman Averett pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill M. O. Dix. The assault occurred during an affray at the [illegible] night club on the Shreveport highway on the night of August 26. Averett was sentenced to six months in the parish jail from the date of incarceration, subject to road duty.

F. F. Pipes of [illegible] was fined $25 and costs of court and given a suspended jail sentence of four months subject to road duty. Pipes, a pensioned war veteran, withdrew a plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. After reversing his not guilty plea, Jim Anderson, charged with giving a bad check, was

MOTHER THINKS CHILD BETTER

Believes Blood Donated By Strange Woman May Prove Cure

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(AP)—New hope in a mother's heart and new strength in her daughter's disease-wasted body sprung today from blood which a childless woman gave to the girl on the chance it might save her life.

But science still shook its head and declared that chestnut-haired Kathryn Felt, 8, can never recover from the blood disease, acute lymphatic leukemia, which has been draining her life away for four months.

From Westport, Conn., early yesterday came Mrs. Joseph Root, Jr., 56, a stranger to Kathryn and her parents until she responded Monday to their radio appeal for blood donors.

Mrs. Root, wife of a tank car company executive, believed she had been cured of the disease which afflicts the Felt child, a rare malady causing a breakdown of the body's blood-making machinery. She was treated for it in New York 15 years ago.

One hundred cubic centimeters of her blood streamed yesterday into the dying girl's veins. And last night Kathryn's grief-worn mother, Mrs.

ELECTION CALLED FOR SHREVEPORT

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The city Democratic executive committee of Shreveport issued a call for a primary election on January 16 for commissioner of public utilities in Shreveport.

In doing so the committee carried out the request of Governor Earl K. Long, who called a general election for April 16 and called on the committee to call a primary to coincide with the state primary.

The governor in a proclamation declared that the office of commissioner was vacant. The post is now being filled by E. I. Davis, who was appointed last November by Governor Richard W. Leche following an opinion by Attorney General Gaston L. Porterie, now federal judge, that an appointment was mandatory. Recently Attorney General Lessley Gardiner ruled that the governor had the right to call an election.

Midnight, November 26, was fixed as the final date for filing notices of candidacy.

Mrs. Joseph Root, Jr., of Bridgeport, Conn., is shown as she prepared to leave for Philadelphia, where she gave her blood for transfusion in an effort to save the life of eight-year-old Kathryn Felt, suffering from a supposed incurable disease in which white blood corpuscles destroy the red. Some thought Mrs. Root's blood might be the right type for the dying girl.

'SCARFACE' AL SUFFERS FROM BRAIN DISEASE

Will Remain In Hospital Three Weeks Before Going To Miami

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Broken, flabby and ailing, "Scarface" Al Capone stared vacantly at the ceiling of a $30-per-diem hospital suite today, free of prison cells in which he lived for seven years but sentenced now to a lingering brain disease.

Outside the one-time Chicago gang czar's room sat a male orderly and a nurse. In or near the hospital were three federal agents assigned by Attorney General Murphy to keep the fallen vice emperor under surveillance because, Murphy said, "certain things have come to our attention."

Whether the agents were to guard Capone from himself or from possible gangland reprisal was not made clear. No uniformed police were assigned to Union Memorial hospital and officials asserted none would be unless requested by the institution.

The gangster chief came here secretly yesterday from the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa., and entered the general hospital as the patient of Dr. Joseph E. Moore, former director of the syphilis division of the Johns Hopkins medical clinic.

He was suffering from paresis—softening of the brain—but it was learned that, while his condition was serious, he was in no immediate danger.

Dr. Moore and hospital officials declined to discuss the case. Attorney General Murphy said Capone would be under treatment possibly three weeks and planned to go to Miami after his discharge. Murphy added that relatives had assured him the racketeer, who served his time for

VERDICT VIEWED AS HEAVY BLOW AT MONOPOLIES

Expected To Stop Automobile Firm's Control Of Financing

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED

Maximum Penalty Provided By Law Imposed By Judge Lindley

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley imposed fines of $5,000 each today on General Motors corporation and three affiliates convicted last night by a jury of violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

Prior to imposing the fines, the maximum provided by law, the judge overruled motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment.

The three affiliates convicted were General Motors Sales corporation, General Motors Acceptance corporation, and General Motors Acceptance corporation of Indiana.

The judge ordered that General Motors and General Motors Sales corporation each pay half the costs of the prosecution.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Government lawyers today hailed the anti-trust conviction of General Motors corporation, world's largest automobile manufacturer, as a victory in the broad federal anti-monopoly drive and a blow at factory control of car financing.

A federal jury of Hoosier farmers and little business men last night convicted the corporation and three affiliates of violating the Sherman act by forcing dealers to give instalment sales paper to the General Motors Acceptance corporation.

But it acquitted 17 officials of the concerns, including President William S. Knudsen and Board Chairman Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., of General Motors, General Manager M. E. Coyle of Chevrolet, a G. M. vice-president, and President John J. Schumann, Jr., of G. M. A. C.

The affiliates were G. M. A. C., G. M. A. C. of Indiana and the General Motors Sales corporation.

Others of motordom's "big three"—Ford and Chrysler—were pledged to steer clear of the same kind of coercion of which G. M. C. was convicted. They were indicted, too, here in May, 1938, but later in consent decrees agreed to make the General Motors case a test.

The jury, which reached its verdict at 8:15 and reported 25 minutes later, had deliberated 25 hours and 40 minutes on evidence given by more than 200 witnesses in a five and a half-weeks' trial.

Special Judge Walter C. Lindley of Danville, Ill., planned to receive defense motions today. The law permits him to fine the corporations up to $5,000 each. If the individuals also had been convicted, they would have been liable to prison terms of up to a year as well as fines.

Holmes Baldridge, chief of government counsel, termed the verdict "a step forward in the (attorney general) anti-trust division's attempt to obtain free competition in industry."

John Thomas Smith, G. M. vice-president, in charge of the defense, saw inconsistency in a verdict ac-

UNEMPLOYMENT BLAMED UPON SCHOOL SYSTEM

Roger Babson Says Politicalization Ruining Students

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Asserting that high school students "know more about cheers than chores," Roger Babson, investment specialist, charged today that the school system in the United States was "primarily responsible for at least 7,000,000 of the 10,000,000 unemployed" in the nation.

Business men, he declared in a prepared address before the New England Association of School Superintendents, "are forced to cease to employ the young men and women emerging from a broken-down organization which has been despoiled by political raiders."

Babson listed 10 factors which he said contributed to unemployment, but added that "the big reason is that young people are being graduated from our schools today as goods are being sold by department stores. Politically-minded school committees are giving these children—not what untrained children need—but what misled parents think they want them to have.

"I insist that the growth of our country, which was so marked previous to 1930, was largely the result of the school system preceding 1915. Contrarywise, that the poor stock which has graduated since 1930 has largely been due to the decline—since 1915—in character of school committees."

Maintaining that as teachers' salaries went up teaching posts became better political plums, the spade-bearded economist contended that school boards had become "political footballs."

YOUNG AND SWOPE TO GIVE UP POSTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—General Electric company announced today retirement of Owen D. Young and Gerard Swope from active management of the company. C. E. Wilson will become president and Philip D. Reed chairman of the board. The changes become effective January 1, 1940.

Wilson has been executive vice-president of the company and Reed assistant to the president.

Young and Swope will assume the titles, respectively of honorary chairman and honorary president.

Wilson began his career as an office boy at the age of 13 with the Sprague Electric company, a former constituent company of General Electric.

He is a native of New York City.

Reed, who was born in Milwaukee, Wis., joined General Electric in its law department in 1926.

The elevation of Reed and Wilson came almost as a birthday gift to both, for yesterday Reed was 40 years old and tomorrow Wilson will be 53.

The directors of General Electric declared a dividend on the common stock of 65 cents a share, payable December 20 to holders of record November 24. It brings the total common stock payments for the year to $1.40 a share compared with 90 cents in 1938.

Wrecking Of State School Finances Is Major Issue

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 17.—(Special)—Threatened wrecking of school finances has become a major issue in the pending state campaign. State Superintendent Thos. H. Harris has imprudently rushed to the defense of the Leche administration with statements which records of the state treasurer's office do not bear out. In a recent circular letter to parish superintendents and school board members, Mr. Harris said: "In justice to the former governor and members of the legislature, it is proper for me to say that the schools lost nothing last session or will lose nothing this session on account of special appropriations out of the severance tax fund."

It is difficult to reconcile this statement with the fact that legislative and board of liquidation appropriations out of the severance tax were $1,506,600 greater in 1938-39 than they were in 1937-38 and that under the law the surplus in the severance tax fund goes to the public schools. Undoubtedly, but for these legislative and board of liquidation increases, the public schools would have been $1,506,600 richer. The state treasurer's office says so.

The school fund would not, in that case, have been overdrawn $1,694,125.84, as it was on the books of the state treasurer at the end of the past fiscal year. The $1,506,600 would almost have covered this deficiency. It would not have been necessary to borrow $1,000,000 from the fiscal banks to reduce the overdraft and pay statutory interest on it, as the state was compelled to do.

In his circular letter to the school people of the state, on the subject of school finances, Mr. Harris had this to say:

"The people are told that the $250,000 borrowed a few days ago to finance hot lunches for poor children, is a charge against the public school funds and that the school funds this year will be depleted in that amount. There is not a word of truth in this propaganda. The money to finance lunches is borrowed against the general funds of the state and does not affect the public school funds to the extent of one cent."

It is a fact that all fiscal loans are payable out of the general fund of the state. At its general sessions the legislature makes provision for the liquidation of these loans. But the state treasurer has made a practice of repaying or reducing the loans prior

DEWEY READY TO TESTIFY IN TRIAL OF KUHN

Bund Treasurer Says Leader Could Handle Money As He Pleased

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, called as a defense witness, testified today he felt "contempt" for Fritz Kuhn, German-American bund leader, on trial for the alleged theft of bund funds.

As Dewey entered the courtroom and sat beside his aide, Assistant District Attorney Herman J. McCarthy, who has been conducting the state's case, Defense Counsel Peter L. F. Sabbatino, said "I suggest that we interrupt this question so that he may take the stand."

A defense witness, George Froeboese of Milwaukee, mid-west department leader of the bund, had been testifying up to that point.

"Oh, don't interrupt it on my account," Dewey said good-humoredly.

Judge James G. Wallace directed Freebease to step down, however, and Dewey was sworn in as a witness—called in an attempt to support the defense assertion that the prosecution of Kuhn was in fact a "persecution" based on politics and was for the purpose of "destroying him."

FIVE TO HAVE RUSTON TRIAL

Leche And Four Others Must Appear Before Lincoln Parish Court

RUSTON, La., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Former Governor Richard W. Leche and four others indicted in connection with alleged irregularities in construction of Leche hall at Louisiana Tech must stand trial in district court here.

Leche did not challenge jurisdiction of the court here but his four codefendants did. They are Leon C. Weiss, Julius Dreyfous and Solis Seiferth, architects for the work, and Monte E. Hart, member of the contracting firm which erected the building.

The men are charged with a $27,000 fraud in a confidence game, with obtaining $27,000 under false pretenses by raising a bid and $5,000 through overpayment to the contractor and obtaining $55,955.00 under false pretenses, chiefly through "extras" on the construction work.

It is alleged that the construction bid was accepted at $264,481.13 and subsequently raised about $27,000, to $291,482.13. It is further alleged that additional amounts were secured by fraud.

Warren C. Doyle, attorney for Monte E. Hart, the only defendant present in court today, gave notice that he would appeal to the state supreme court.

Judge Walker did not rule on the question of whether money was obtained in the jurisdiction of the court but he did cite the indictment as charging that checks and certificates were issued here and that "some transaction took place."

WIFE THINKS DISGRACE TOO HARD ON SMITH

Blames It For His Attempt To End Life In Jail

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The wife of Dr. James Monroe Smith, former Louisiana State university president, today attributed his suicide attempt on the eve of his scheduled departure for the state penitentiary to self-reproach for disgracing his career.

Facing an eight to 24-year sentence at the state penitentiary and a 30-month federal sentence for his staggering peculations with the school's funds, Dr. Smith cut an artery in his foot with a razor blade in his jail cell here yesterday. A jailer found him in a brimming bathtub. Previously, delivery of a bottle of poison to his cell had been intercepted.

Outside the hospital room where he lay weakly recuperating from loss of blood, Smith's wife, red-eyed from weeping, gently told a reporter he

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—This is a saga with gestures and facial expressions on the third term issue, or what makes President Roosevelt laugh the loudest.

June 29, 1937—In reply to a reporter's question as to whether he would seek a third term, the president threw back his head, laughed and suggested the newsman put on a dunce cap and stand in the corner.

July 9, 1937—Mrs. Roosevelt, appearing at a question and answer session of the Franklin D. Roosevelt home club of Hyde Park, said she hoped her husband would not seek a third term.

Oct. 13, 1938—From Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president—"I wouldn't know actually whether he plans to run again, but personally, I hope he doesn't. Being the son of the president is sometimes a handicap."

July 3, 1939—James Roosevelt, oldest son of the president—"Everything is up to father."

July 20, 1939—In reply to a reporter's question about a third term, the president threw back his head, laughed and suggested the newsman put on a dunce cap and stand in the corner.

July 22, 1939—Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of the president, said that as far as health alone was concerned, her son could stand a third term very well.

Overton, Ellender Active In Campaign For Long

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Louisiana's two United States senators—John H. Overton and Allen J. Ellender—are now actively in the Louisiana political campaign as backers of Governor Earl K. Long.

Both appeared at Long's rally in Monroe last night. Overton said he had assurances Long would not be indicted. Ellender said all administrationists should not be condemned because "a few" were dishonest.

All four other candidates were busy in various sections of the state.

Ellender said there were no new issues in the campaign. The opposition is throwing out a smoke screen, declared the senator, and is trying to convince the people that just because a few men violated their trust, all office-holders are dishonest.

"It is unfortunate for Dr. Smith that he violated his trust," said Senator Ellender. "But if all the members of this administration, from the governor down, had been placed on the platform here and someone had told me there was a crook in the crowd, Dr. Smith was the last man I would have picked."

The opposition wants to return the government to the "big boys," declared Senator Ellender. The "big boys" have never forgotten that the present regime made them pay $8,000,000 a year in severance taxes, where they were paying a pittance, said the senator, and that it made them pay $3,500,000 a year in corporation franchise taxes, and $5,500,000 a year in income taxes. Prior to 1928, he asserted, the state turned over to the parishes $5,000,000 for schools, whereas today it is giving them $16,500,000.

Senator Overton said he had convinced himself, after talking to United States Attorney General Frank Murphy, that there is at least one honest candidate in the race, and that this candidate is Earl Long. He said he called on Attorney General Murphy, in view of the "whispering campaign" that Governor Long was to be indicted, and asked Mr. Murphy just what the governor's status was. He was informed by the attorney general, he declared, that:

"In all the investigations we have made, not a single lead has led to the door of Governor Long. He is not indicted and we do not contemplate any indictment."

Governor Long criticized James A. Noe, an opponent, today for saying

THINK HITLER AND HIS STAFF CANNOT AGREE

Attribute This As Reason For Germany's 'Indecisive Action'

PLANE ALARM SOUNDS

Sharp Retaliation Hinted If Any Bombing Attempted On Cities

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The supreme allied war council met in London today and announced "complete agreement" on methods of using French and British forces for effective conduct of operations.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—High British military authorities expressed "conviction" today that what they called Germany's "indecisive tactics" on the western front were the result of disagreement between Adolf Hitler and his general staff.

These authorities did not disclose what information they had to support this view but said they considered it bolstered because Germany had not organized direct, hard blows against Britain and France which, they said, was the usual German plan.

There were hints also of sharp retaliation against any bombardment of British cities.

Asked what British policy would be toward any bombing of open cities or any use of gas, one source referred questioners to international law and to provisions for retaliation where the law is violated.

A German war plane flew today over the Shetland islands off the northern Scottish coast, scene of a Nazi air bombing Monday.

Alarms sounded in 13 towns over a wide area also in southwest Lancashire, Cheshire and north Wales after an unidentified plane flew over the region. An all-clear signal was given in a few minutes, however.

The war office announced today 20,000 men were needed for home defense battalions of the British army.

The announcement was made as recruiting opened to double the strength of the women's auxiliary territorial service.

Germany's first stroke against British shipping in the Indian ocean started naval experts guessing today where the Nazi pocket battleships are roving.

Sources here advanced the possibility the 10,000-ton German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer sank the 706-ton British tanker Africa Shell Wednesday off the coast of Mozambique, Portuguese East Africa.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Capetown, South Africa, however, said such a theory was discounted by authorities there.

The Reuters report said the tanker was sent to the bottom in Portuguese territorial waters, and that some sources suggested the attacker might have been an armed merchantman of about 10,000 tons.

British reports have not located the Admiral Scheer since September 30, when the British steamer Clement was sunk off the coast of Brazil—about 4,500 miles from where the Africa Shell went down—but it had been considered likely here the German warship rounded Cape Horn into the Pacific ocean.

The Admiral Scheer and the Deutschland, another 10,000-ton Nazi pocket battleship, have been at sea more than a month.

The Deutschland was known to have been off the coast of Newfoundland October 14, five days after she placed a prize crew aboard the United States government-owned freighter City of Flint.

The British have attributed only three sinkings to the two German men-o'-war up to October 27, when a British report said they had been compelled by anti-sea raider naval

ACCOUNTANTS GIVEN RIGHT TO SEE BOOKS

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Orders of Judge R. C. Culpepper to certain institutions in this section to make available their books to Cox and Frazier of Monroe, certified public accountants, were issued at the request of the Rapides parish grand jury, which is making an investigation into various alleged law violations.

Among the institutions to which the orders were issued are the Louisiana highway commission, the Central Louisiana hospital, the State Colony and Training school, the sheriff and tax collector's office of Rapides parish and the city of Alexandria.

The firm referred to has been retained by the grand jury to make audits of certain specific matters upon which the inquisitorial body, it is said, desires information.

It is understood that the grand jury desires information concerning certain specific matters in connection with the Eighth maintenance district of the highway commission, in which Rapides and several adjoining parishes are located.

While no definite information can be obtained, it is believed that the grand jury will not have complete audits of the books of these institutions made, but the audits will cover only those matters upon which they desire data.

COMMON SHARK MADE TO PAY

Gives Up Liver To Provide $100,000-A-Year Business

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The common shark, long considered the pest of Florida's salt waters, is giving up his liver to make a $100,000-a-year business.

The oil from the liver is rich in vitamin A, and is used in medicinal compounds.

His fins make soup, his skin makes leather, and his teeth are used as prizes by a cereal manufacturing company.

Dr. L. L. Ruskoff, assistant professor of animal nutrition at the University of Florida, told about the shark's commercial values at a meeting of the Florida Academy of Sciences today.

In three years, shark catching and processing has grown from a $5,000-a-year infant.

"The menace to fishermen and sports lovers, the scourge of Florida waters, is being transformed into one of the most valuable creatures of the sea," Dr. Ruskoff said. "It is the raw material for a diversity of industries, a new source of health and wealth to Florida."

He declared University of Florida tests showed shark oil to be from four to 15 times as rich in vitamin as ordinary cod liver oil.

There are [illegible] 11 shark fishing stations [illegible] $[illegible] invested in boats and [illegible] Ruskoff estimated [illegible] caught last year [illegible] gallons of oil. This [illegible] fish.

*Denotes Overdraft

Clearly shown in the official balance sheet of the Louisiana state treasurer for the calendar year 1938 is the fact that a large surplus in the state school fund was spent and a heavy overdraft created. In the above photograph of a portion of the balance sheet, the white arrow points to the school fund figures. It is seen that on January 1, 1938, there was a surplus of $478,222.98 to the credit of the school fund and that on December 31, closing the year, there was an overdraft of $797,252.92.

REV. HOLMES WILL PREACH ON SUNDAY

D. C. [illegible] Smith, who is [illegible] the annual Methodist conference [illegible] announced [illegible] Rev. William W. Holmes, pastor of the Rayne Memorial [illegible] in New Orleans, to preach at the First Methodist church in West Monroe Sunday at 11 a.m. Rev. Holmes is regarded as one of the most prominent Methodist pastors in the state and a large attendance is expected.

Also as there is no service at 11 a.m. at the First Methodist church in Monroe Sunday, members and the congregation are invited to attend the service in West Monroe and hear Rev. Holmes.

SCHOOL FUNDS MAJOR ISSUE

to meetings of the legislature out of the funds benefiting from them, if those funds permit. In the state of school finances, there is very little hope of discharging the $250,000 loan, or any other loan in this manner. But, it might be done.

The ethics of the situation would seem to demand a settlement of that nature. As a matter of principle, money used for the schools should not be charged against a fund that sustains hospitals and insane asylums. However, under the circumstances, this fund will probably have to bear it.

Concerning severance tax appropriations, Mr. Harris had this to say:

"I understand that the statement is also being made all over the state that the public schools lost $1,500,000 last year on account of the appropriations out of the severance tax which belong to the schools to buy Chalmette park and to build and equip certain buildings of the Louisiana State university. These appropriations were made out of the current school funds but every dollar of them was returned to the public school fund out of the general fund of the state, and so the schools lost nothing on account of these appropriations."

As stated several days ago by your correspondent the $300,000 for Chalmette park, still unpaid, the $350,000 for geology hall, the $506,000 additional for the conservation department and the $350,000 additional for free text books all came out of the severance tax fund. Since the residue of the severance tax goes to the public schools and the appropriations listed reduced the residue just that much, the current school fund undoubtedly sustained heavy losses. It is a plain problem in simple arithmetic.

Mr. Harris' efforts to show that the schools lost nothing through legislative prodigality are absolutely deprived of force and meaning by the records of the state treasurer. Accompanying this article is the official balance sheet of the state treasurer for the calendar year 1938. It shows that on January 1 there was a surplus of $478,222.98 to the credit of the current school funds, and by December 31 an overdraft of $797,252.92 had taken its place.

In other words, the state school authorities spent all of the money collected from every available source in 1938, absorbed besides a balance of nearly half a million dollars and created a debt of over three quarters of a million. Its receipts for the year were $12,596,580.60 and it spent $13,872,062.50. It thus paid out $1,275,375.90 more than it collected. By June 30, its overdraft had grown to $1,694,125.84, of which $1,000,000 was covered by a fiscal loan.

All the political legerdemain Mr. Harris is able to bring to bear in an effort to obscure or destroy the meaning of these figures, will not accomplish it. Circular letter 1353, in which the state superintendent discusses these matters, does not present anything like a faithful picture of the schools' finances. To say that the current school fund sustained no losses when it absorbed a surplus of half a million dollars, spent all revenues and created a three-quarter of a million overdraft is very much like saying that two and two do not make four.

Either Mr. Harris or the official records of the state treasurer are wrong. The public must believe one or the other. It cannot credit both.

SHOTGUN STOLEN

Theft of a Browning pump shotgun was being investigated by local police Friday morning. H. H. Gudger, 2310 South Grand street, reported that his gun was taken between 1 and 3:30 p.m. Thursday from his car, parked by the side of his home.

PUBLIC 'BETRAYERS' URGED TO REPENT

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Presbyterian synod of Louisiana adopted a resolution calling on those "who have betrayed their trust" in public office to "repent and make full restitution."

"We rejoice," the resolution said, "that our citizens [illegible] situation in our [illegible] correcting the [illegible] due to an indifferent [illegible] public office.

"We have seen the [illegible] quences coming from electing [illegible] lic office some who, [illegible] used the office as a means of [illegible] aggrandizement.

"We call upon all to exercise [illegible] duty and privilege of suffrage [illegible] a way as to elect to office only [illegible] men as will regard the office as [illegible] opportunity for a public service [illegible] the good of all our citizens."

The 90 delegates picked the [illegible] Charles Avenue Presbyterian [illegible] in New Orleans for the next meeting in September, 1940. The Rev. C. C. Mc[illegible] Clure of the Third Presbyterian church, New Orleans, was elected [illegible] synod's moderator.

WOMAN PRESENTS ASSORTED DEFENSE

MILLBURN, N. J., Nov. 17.—(AP)—After listening to the defense presented by a young matron charged with driving while intoxicated Judge G. Noyes Slayton decided he would ponder the problem for two weeks.

Oh yes, admitted the defendant, her car did zig-zag a bit but that was because her husband, sitting alongside her, fell asleep and lurched on her arm.

At police headquarters, she explained she failed the walking backwards test because she wore four-inch French heels, and she couldn't bend over to pick up buttons because, well, her girdle was too highwaisted.

CHAMBER'S BOARDS MEETING ON FRIDAY

Both the junior and senior boards of the Chamber of Commerce are scheduled to meet Friday at 3:30 p.m. to consider many important matters, the session comprising the regular monthly meeting.

The program that is scheduled for consideration at the meeting comprises a discussion of civic beautification which will be handled by a newly formed foundation of which L. Milton King is president.

Plans for the holding of the annual meeting and banquet on the night of December 15 will be perfected and consideration of details for the Christmas fiesta will be included on the afternoon's program. H. R. Saenger is chairman of this group.

The membership will also give some attention to the election of the two boards for 1940.

The civic affairs committee, W. H. Anders chairman, will also report at the meeting.

There are now 11 shark fishing stations with about $75,000 invested in boats and equipment. Ruskoff estimated [illegible] sharks were caught last year [illegible]. This [illegible] fish.

*Denotes Overdraft

Clearly shown in the official balance sheet of the Louisiana state treasurer for the calendar year 1938 is the fact that a large surplus in the state school fund was spent and a heavy overdraft created. In the above photograph of a portion of the balance sheet, the white arrow points to the school fund figures. It is seen that on January 1, 1938, there was a surplus of $478,222.98 to the credit of the school fund and that on December 31, closing the year, there was an overdraft of $797,252.92.

REV. HOLMES WILL PREACH ON SUNDAY

Dr. C. Karlos Smith, who is in attendance at the annual Methodist conference in Ruston, announced Friday that he had secured Rev. William W. Holmes, pastor of the Rayne Memorial church in New Orleans, to preach at the First Methodist church in West Monroe Sunday at 11 a.m. Rev. Holmes is regarded as one of the most prominent Methodist pastors in the state and a large attendance is expected.

Also as there is no service at 11 a.m. at the First Methodist church in Monroe Sunday, members and the congregation are invited to attend the service in West Monroe and hear Rev. Holmes.

ROAD COMMISSION TO RECEIVE BIDS

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Louisiana highway commission announced it would receive bids December 12 on the following grading and surfacing projects:

Bossier parish—7.49 miles southwest of [illegible].

Caldwell—3.732 miles between [illegible] and route 17.

Bienville—3.725 miles southwest of Gibsland.

St. Landry and Bienville—4.745 miles [illegible].

Natchitoches—4.170 miles on various routes.

TO POSTPONE CAMP FIRE TEA PLANNED

The Camp Fire Girls mother-daughter tea that was scheduled to be held at the [illegible] memorial home Saturday at 4 p.m. has been indefinitely postponed.

This action was taken because of the death of W. A. O'Kelly, brother of Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell, Camp Fire council president.

to meetings of the legislature out of the funds benefiting from them, if those funds permit. In the state of school finances, there is very little hope of discharging the $250,000 loan, or any other loan in this manner. But, it might be done.

The ethics of the situation would seem to demand a settlement of that nature. As a matter of principle, money used for the schools should not be charged against a fund that sustains hospitals and insane asylums. However, under the circumstances, this fund will probably have to bear it.

Concerning severance tax appropriations, Mr. Harris had this to say:

"I understand that the statement is also being made all over the state that the public schools lost $1,700,000 last year on account of the appropriations out of the severance taxes which belong to the schools to buy Chalmette park and to build and equip certain buildings of the Louisiana State university. These appropriations were made out of the current school funds but every dollar of them was returned to the public school fund out of the general fund of the state, and so the schools lost nothing on account of these appropriations."

As stated several days ago by your correspondent the $300,000 for Chalmette park, still unpaid, the $350,000 for geology hall, the $506,000 additional for the conservation department and the $350,000 additional for free text books all came out of the severance tax fund. Since the residue of the severance tax goes to the public schools and the appropriations listed reduced the residue just that much, the current school fund undoubtedly sustained heavy losses. It is a plain problem in simple arithmetic.

Mr. Harris' efforts to show that the schools lost nothing through legislative prodigality are absolutely deprived of force and meaning by the records of the state treasurer. Accompanying this article is the official balance sheet of the state treasurer for the calendar year 1938. It shows that on January 1 there was a surplus of $478,222.98 to the credit of the current school funds, and by December 31 an overdraft of $797,252.92 had taken its place.

In other words, the state school authorities spent all of the money collected from every available source in 1938, absorbed besides a balance of nearly half a million dollars and created a debt of over three quarters of a million. Its receipts for the year were $12,596,580.60 and it spent $13,872,062.50. It thus paid out $1,275,375.90 more than it collected. By June 30, its overdraft had grown to $1,694,125.84, of which $1,000,000 was covered by a fiscal loan.

All the political legerdemain Mr. Harris is able to bring to bear in an effort to obscure or destroy the meaning of these figures, will not accomplish it. Circular letter 1353, in which the state superintendent discusses these matters, does not present anything like a faithful picture of the schools' finances. To say that the current school fund sustained no losses when it absorbed a surplus of half a million dollars, spent all revenues and created a three-quarter of a million overdraft is very much like saying that two and two do not make four.

Either Mr. Harris or the official records of the state treasurer are wrong. The public must believe one or the other. It cannot credit both.

SHOTGUN STOLEN

Theft of a Browning pump shotgun was being investigated by local police Friday morning. H. H. Gudger, 2310 South Grand street, reported that his gun was taken between 1 and 3:30 p.m. Thursday from his car, parked by the side of his home.

PUBLIC 'BETRAYERS' URGED TO REPENT

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Presbyterian synod of Louisiana adopted a resolution calling on those "who have betrayed their trust" in public office to "repent and make full restitution."

"We rejoice," the resolution said, "that our citizens are [illegible] situation in our [illegible] correcting the [illegible] due to an indifferent [illegible] public office.

"We have seen the [illegible] quences coming from electing [illegible] lic office some who, [illegible] used the office as a means of [illegible] aggrandizement.

"We call upon all to [illegible] duty and privilege of suffrage [illegible] a way as to elect to office only [illegible] men as will regard the office [illegible] opportunity for a public service [illegible] the good of all our citizens."

The 90 delegates picked the St. Charles Avenue Presbyterian church in New Orleans for the next meeting in September, 1940. The Rev. C. C. Mc-Clure of the Third Presbyterian church, New Orleans, was elected the synod's moderator.

Killers Vs. Cures

Militarists work overtime to invent more efficient methods of bringing death to the greatest number of people while scientists search for new ways to preserve human life. It's a tussle to see who comes out on top.

Within only a few days humanitarian scientists have announced several new developments. A new treatment for malignant endocarditis, which once took 98 out of every 100 victims, is being tried with some success. A synthetic male hormone has been developed to save effeminate young men from the tragedies of a frustrated life. A new metal, vitallium, was used to replace part of a man's skull, scraped off in an accident. The comparatively new science of eugenics has advanced another step with the announcement of a synthetic, fatherless birth of a rabbit.

Perhaps that has always been the essence of civilization—an eternal race between humanitarians and nihilists with the former having just enough of an edge to keep the world going.

Bicycle Problem

Last week at Atlantic City the national safety congress made a start in meeting the terrific increase in bicycle traffic casualties. Its suggestions were few but seem sensible.

There are now 8,000,000 bicycles in America. This is double the number in operation in 1932. The death rate from bicycle accidents has doubled since 1932. This was 350 in 1932. In 1938 it was 700. In 1938 the automobile accidents dropped 18 per cent from the number in 1937. In 1938 the bicycle accidents did not drop at all.

The output of bicycles has again reached 1,000,000 a year. The growing proportions of riders are adults, not youngsters.

The safety congress advises (1) licensing of cyclists with police power of impounding cycles (2) keeping cycles in business districts to streets with thick and slowly moving traffic and (3) keeping cycles to sidewalks in residential districts where pedestrians are relatively few and motor-car traffic is swift.

LITTLE MOTHERS

[illegible] Sister stays at home to look after [illegible] no longer need her. [illegible] Sister [illegible] The family hold a council [illegible] Well, somebody has to take her. She just can't be left on the doorstep.

So, a question arose concerning a little girl of 10 who had been mother to her little brother whose birth cost his mother's life. Sister had done about everything a mother could do at her age and more for this little boy. There came an offer of a fine education for Sister. But she would have to go from home and Brother to accept it.

Yes is my vote. Father married again, aunts and uncles visiting regularly, a good family background for Brother. Why should Sister be further sacrificed? When Brother grows a bit older he will go his way, but Sister will find it rather difficult to go any way except the old way. Let each child have the chance to work out his own road to fulfillment. Surely he is entitled to that much consideration.

Brothers and sisters should help each other. That is the essence of family life. They should support each other in time of need, sustain each other in sorrow and sickness. But when it comes to sacrificing one member of the family for the rest, I vote No.

Brothers have been sacrificed for other brothers before now. They have devoted their lives to rearing younger brothers or supporting widowed mothers and sisters. Often it would have done the supported ones a much greater service had they been allowed, or forced, to go out and support themselves, and help, in their turn, to care for their mother.

Service is one thing and a lovely thing. But sacrifice is quite another, and of dubious value, in my eyes. It is not possible for anyone to give anyone else happiness or success. Each must create his own out of the strength of his own soul. When a sister is sacrificed for her brothers and sisters, or a brother forced to give up his way of life that his brothers and sisters may live more comfortably, little good comes of it. Share the burdens, work together to carry them, and life is brighter for all concerned.

Limited Living Quarters

[illegible] The ambassador has a residence elsewhere in the city. It is considered the best of any ambassador in Moscow.

So crowded are living quarters for the staff that few but bachelors are assigned to the United States embassy. Married couples are transferred if babies come.

Sometimes a call from Moscow to Paris can be put through in [illegible] minutes. Secretary Hull once said it might take most of a day to get through to Moscow from Washington. Nonofficial callers must tell the subject of call before they are put through. Soviet police listen in on such a large percentage of telephone calls that [illegible] send transmit other than routine messages that way.

Lack of facilities is considered to be at least half to blame for delays. Red tape in handling calls explains much of the rest.

WET, STICKY LEGS MUST BE COVERED

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 17.—(P)—Persons appearing on the streets with exposed legs, sometimes wet and sticky with suntan oil, provide a situation which in the opinion of the city council is "unsatisfactory, unsightly, distasteful and annoying."

Accordingly, an ordinance adopted yesterday requires bathers to wear robes extending from shoulders to knees at least when going to or from the beach in bathing suits.

It's the stickiness the council dislikes, not exposed legs. Abbreviated play suits and shorts are not affected.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17.—I nominate Leatrice Joy for the roles the late Alice Brady left unfilled. I don't mean to insinuate that she should attempt to replace Miss Brady. That can't be done, and such attempts are always fatal.

But in the new Deanna Durbin picture, Leatrice, with a style all her own, established the fact that she's lost none of her talents during the years she has been in retirement, wife of a wealthy business man. Incidentally, she is still his wife and likely to remain so from all I hear. But once an actress, always [illegible] the barker's return to the grease paint.

Have Yourself An Anecdote

The parent of anecdotal humor was old Joe and the publicists draw upon him heavily. Pay attention, class: "Tommy R[illegible] was anxious for a quick sandwich at Reuben's the other morning and requested: 'Please get me a fast waiter.' The manager demurred. 'Better take a slow one,' he replied, 'or you'll wait too long. Everybody wants the fast one.'"

Or Willie Howard tells of the budding playwright whose first effort was rejected by the prominent producer who thoughtfully enclosed with the manuscript a note stating his reason for turning it down. "It's a fairly good play," he said, "but not quite deep enough."

"I can't understand his saying that," said the perplexed author. "I made it six carbon copies deep!" Before the typewriter age, old Joe Miller had invented a gag like that.

Humor pursues all patterns in the grist through the mad mill. There's whimsy such as Will Osborne's. He wonders if I've heard the one about the pigeon who had a date for lunch in Peekskill and cocktails in Central Park. He was so late for the cocktail party that his friends were worried, but he finally showed up. "It was such a lovely day," he explained, "that I decided to walk."

Jessel himself says that now the Germans announce the use of a 70-ton tank, he has his first intimation of the whereabouts of General Goering.

ELLENDER AND OVERTON BACK EARL K. LONG

Long was "hooked up" with "Dick Leche, Seymour Weiss, Monte Hart and that gang."

Leche, Weiss, Hart and many others once prominent in state administration ranks are under indictment in the scandal investigations.

"Why everybody in Louisiana knows," Long said, "that Seymour Weiss, Monte Hart and the rest of them went around for nearly four years saying that Earl Long would never be governor.

"But after Seymour Weiss and Monte Hart were convicted by a jury in federal court I saw Jimmy Noe go into the Roosevelt (New Orleans hotel operated by Weiss) with them and put his arms around them."

Long said it was he who gave the federal government the information which led to the indictment of Weiss, Hart and others in the "double-dip" sale of Roosevelt hotel furnishings to Louisiana State university.

Long [illegible] that he had stopped the [illegible] "deducts" from state [illegible] some time ago but that the Times-Picayune never gave him any credit for it.

"Now that some of our friends are contributing some money out of their salaries for the campaign," he said, "the Times-Picayune is raising hell.

"They never cared about money being taken out of the pay of state employes. All they wanted was for the chest to be bare so we wouldn't have any money to make a campaign on."

James H. Morrison, another candidate, said at Homer that "the Leche-Earl Long-Bob Maestri machine" had "wrecked Louisiana and caused the greatest political scandal in the history of America."

"With over 200 indictments from top to bottom," he said, "there is no question in the public's mind that this machine is absolutely corrupt and wicked."

Morrison denounced Governor Long as "the unelected governor of Louisiana, a double crosser, betrayer and arch hypocrite, a little stoogey Charley McCarthy sitting upon the knee of Bob Maestri whimpering, 'Yes, Bob, anything you say is what I mean.'"

"I'm out to get them," he said, "every single rotten one of them and on January 16 when I'm elected governor, they'd better leave Louisiana because I'm planning to enlarge Angola penitentiary to accommodate them."

Morrison said Candidate James A. Noe was a "dead issue" and that "old applehead" couldn't understand "why it is impossible to play ball with both the thieves and with the people and get the people's vote."

Candidate Sam Jones, he continued, had "started down the hill and many of his supporters are throwing away their Jones buttons." He said that in Baton Rouge Wednesday night Jones "could have held his political rally in a phone booth."

Sam Jones said at Pollock that Governor Long "lost his head, and is now making wild statements and offers about betting."

"In the first place," said Jones, "there's a law against that kind of stuff in this state. You know, there's an old saying that whom the gods would destroy they first make mad. It's the hit dog that howls."

Jones said he was glad Long had promised to put him on relief after the January primary because "if by some hook or crook he should accidentally be elected we'll all be having to get on relief in this state."

"The minute anybody opposes this administration," he said, "they send their [illegible] around [illegible] the people that that man is opposed to the poor people. Well this time they've got a man against them that they can't say that about, at least not with any truth."

Noe at Houma, continued his attack on Governor Long and the state administration for their asserted failure to aid sugar cane growers.

Noe emphasized that he wished to help Louisiana produce its full amount of sugar so as to create jobs and money for the "state's second most important agricultural crop."

Noe said that last year when it looked like the sugar men were making some headway in the fight against government restrictions "something happened."

"Dick Leche, then governor, was in retirement, and the acting governor at the time, Earl K. Long, didn't seem to know that there was such a thing as cane in Louisiana," Noe said.

"You know the result—the state failed to stand behind the industry."

Vincent Moseley said at Vivian that "just because he hasn't been proved guilty of blowing a safe, Governor Earl K. Long imagines that the people should elect him chief executive."

"Earl Long says that he is running on his record," Moseley said. "That record, which he claims is 'snow white,' is just about the weakest obstacle any candidate has to overcome. Why play the barrier so low that a little zabbling duck could toddle over it?

"How did he accumulate wealth in four years as lieutenant-governor, entering office penniless and now owning the $186,000 Hammond Progress, and other assets, and how and where did he obtain the money with which to purchase the two apartment buildings in New Orleans that he offered to bet another candidate?"

income tax evasion, would "go straight."

Hospital attendants who saw Capone said he looked "pale and weak." His wife, mother and brother, Ralph, were with him when he arrived and arrangements were made for the latter to occupy the second bedroom of the expensive suite.

No one about the hospital seemed certain who sent him the huge bunch of chrysanthemums, but they made a gleaming backdrop while Capone idly played cards with his brother until ordered to sleep last night.

Meanwhile, Chicago police intensified their investigation of a possible link between Capone's old organization and last week's shotgun slaying of Edward J. O'Hare, president of the Sportsman's Park race track.

Captain Daniel Gilbert, chief of the state's attorney's investigators, asserted "there is no longer any doubt about it being a Capone job." He said he had learned Capone gangsters were involved in a dispute at Sportsman's Park about 10 days before O'Hare's assassination.

Capone left Sunday night from Terminal Island prison, San Diego, Calif., where he had been transferred from Alcatraz because of his physical condition. With his guards, he left the train at Harrisburg, Pa., and motored to Lewisburg, where he was formally released.

Given the customary suit of clothes —but not the customary $10—he left immediately with relatives and motored direct to Baltimore.

operations to do "more cruising than raiding." One of the three merchantmen said to have been sunk by a pocket warship was a neutral.

British officially discounted recent naval losses as "the price we have to pay for command of the seas" and pointed also to Germany's loss of four ships in the past week—two, the Uehenfels and the Leander, sunk, and two others, the Parana and the Mecklenberg, scuttled by their crews to avoid capture.

A royal air force casualty list yesterday raised the toll of British airmen killed since the start of the war from 135 to 165, including seven killed in action and 23 "in active service."

EUROPE'S CONFLICT STILL CHIEFLY TALK

(By Associated Press)

Europe's conflict continued today to be fought mainly on the verbal front.

British military authorities offered the "conviction" that disagreement between Adolf Hitler and his general staff caused "indecisive tactics" by the Nazis on the western front.

German authorities already had hinted their tactics would be changed from the defensive to the offensive—but at the same time weighed anew how the Nazis would feel toward a mediation offer by President Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt's name was injected into informal peace talk in Germany October 6. German authorities said Hitler would accept an armistice if proposed by the American executive with a view to a general European settlement.

That talk ran its course in a week when Washington made it clear it had received no formal invitation to offer mediation and even if it should receive one the chances were it would take no action unless assured in advance that Great Britain and France would listen.

Berlin introduced President Roosevelt's name again today, saying Germany would not be interested in any general mediation offer but would be likely to respond if he asked the belligerents to outline their war aims as a move toward finding a common basis for mediation.

Both French and German communiques recorded minor activity on the western front, but war planes were busy.

Air alarms were sounded in Lyon and Marseille as German airplanes continued flights over southeastern France; a German plane flew over the Shetland islands, north of Scotland.

The Bohemia-Moravia protectorate, the territory Germany took in the dismemberment of Czecho-Slovakia, continued to test German authorities.

Hitler's black-shirted elite guards occupied Czech high schools and a technical institute and took away some 1,200 students.

There was no immediate explanation—but 2,000 students demonstrated on Wednesday against the government Germany set up in the protectorate.

A meeting of the allied supreme war council was planned in London; French Premier Daladier left Paris to attend.

The British war office called for 20,000 men for home defense battalions; at the same time a recruiting campaign opened to increase from 20,000 to 40,000 the strength of the women's auxiliary territorial service whose members serve as clerks, cooks, chauffeurs, etc.

Operations in the undeclared war between Japan and China shifted to southeastern China, near China's avenue to French Indo-China and British Burma. Japanese reported their forces had driven 30 miles north from the coast since Wednesday.

GERMANS OCCUPY SEVERAL CZECH SCHOOLS

PRAGUE, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Czech high schools and the Karlovy University Technical institute were occupied early this morning by German Schutzstaffel (SS) detachments and about 1,200 students, boys and girls, were hauled away in buses.

Reasons for this action by Adolf Hitler's black-shirt elite guard were vague. Shots were heard at Masaryk college, but apparently no one was injured.

About noon SS armored cars were seen passing through the city which then was reported quiet.

On Wednesday, about 2,000 Czech students demonstrated against the Bohemia-Moravia protectorate government set up by Germany in the dissolution of Czecho-Slovakia.

Sixteen of the throng were reported to have been arrested that day. The large body of students attempted to escort the coffin of a fellow student who died of injuries October 28.

Police dispersed the demonstrators, but they tried to force their way into Wenceslas square and Karl's square from side streets, chanting Slavic songs.

Killers Vs. Cures

Militarists work overtime to invent more efficient methods of bringing death to the greatest number of people while scientists search for new ways to preserve human life. It's a tussle to see who comes out on top.

Within only a few days humanitarian scientists have announced several new developments. A new treatment for malignant endocarditis, which once took 98 out of every 100 victims, is being tried with some success. A synthetic male hormone has been developed to save effeminate young men from the tragedies of a frustrated life. A new metal, vitallium, was used to replace part of a man's skull, scraped off in an accident. The comparatively new science of eugenics has advanced another step with the announcement of a synthetic, fatherless birth of a rabbit.

Perhaps that has always been the essence of civilization—an eternal race between humanitarians and nihilists with the former having just enough of an edge to keep the world going.

Bicycle Problem

Last week at Atlantic City the national safety congress made a start in meeting the terrible increase in bicycle traffic casualties. Its suggestions were few but seem sensible.

There are now 8,000,000 bicycles in America. This is double the number in operation in 1932. The death rate from bicycle accidents has doubled since 1932. This was 350 in 1932. In 1938 it was 700. In 1938 the automobile accidents dropped 18 per cent from the number in 1937. In 1938 the bicycle accidents did not drop at all.

The output of bicycles has again reached 1,000,000 a year. The growing proportions of riders are adults, not youngsters.

The safety congress advises (1) licensing of cyclists with police power of impounding cycles (2) keeping cycles in business districts to streets with thick and slowly moving traffic and (3) keeping cycles to sidewalks in residential districts where pedestrians are relatively few and motor-car traffic is swift.

LITTLE MOTHERS

[illegible] But what happens to sisters? [illegible] Sister stays at home to look after [illegible] no longer need her. [illegible] She just can't be left on the doorstep.

Such a question arose concerning a little girl of 10 who had been mother to her little brother whose birth cost his mother's life. Sister had done about everything a mother could do at her age and more for this little one. There came an offer of a fine education for Sister. But she would have to go from home and Brother to accept it.

Yes is my vote. Father married again, aunts and uncles visiting regularly, a good family background for Brother. Why should Sister be further sacrificed? When Brother grows a bit older he will go his way, but Sister will find it rather difficult to go any way except the old way. Let each child have the chance to work out his own road to fulfillment. Surely he is entitled to that much consideration.

Brothers and sisters should help each other. That is the essence of family life. They should support each other in time of need, sustain each other in sorrow and sickness. But when it comes to sacrificing one member of the family for the rest, I vote No.

Brothers have been sacrificed for other brothers before now. They have devoted their lives to rearing younger brothers, or supporting widowed mothers and sisters. Often it would have done the supported ones a much greater service had they been allowed, or forced, to go out and support themselves, and help, in their turn, to care for their mother.

Service is one thing, and a lovely thing. But sacrifice is quite another, and of dubious value, in my eyes. It is not possible for anyone to give anyone else happiness or success. Each must create his own out of the strength of his own soul. When a sister is sacrificed for her brothers and sisters, or a brother forced to give up his way of life that his brothers and sisters may live more comfortably, little good comes of it. Share the burdens; work together to carry them, and life is brighter for all concerned.

Sometimes a call from Moscow to Paris can be put through in 20 minutes. Secretary Hull once said it might take most of a day to get through to Moscow from Washington. Non-official callers must tell the subject of calls before they are put through. Soviet police listen in on such a large percentage of telephone calls that nobody, with good sense, transmits other than routine messages that way.

Lack of facilities is considered to be at least half to blame for delays. Red tape in handling calls explains much of the rest.

WET, STICKY LEGS MUST BE COVERED

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 17—(AP)—Persons appearing on the streets with exposed legs, sometimes wet and sticky with suntan oil, provide a situation which in the opinion of the city council is "unsatisfactory, unsightly, distasteful and annoying."

Accordingly, an ordinance adopted yesterday requires bathers to wear robes extending from shoulders to knees, at least, when going to or from the beach in bathing suits.

It's the stickiness the council dislikes, not exposed legs. Abbreviated play suits and shorts are not affected.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17—I nominate Leatrice Joy for the roles the late Alice Brady left unfilled. I don't mean to insinuate that she should attempt to replace Miss Brady. That can't be done, and such attempts are always fatal.

But in the new Deanna Durbin picture, Leatrice, with a style all her own, established the fact that she's lost none of her talents during the years she has been in retirement as wife of a wealthy business man. Incidentally, she is still his wife and likely to remain so from all I hear. But once an actress, always so; she hankers to return to the grease paint.

Actually, Miss Joy gave more promise than performance in the Durbin film, for it was obvious she was cut down. Her screen footage suffered to make room for Deanna and Miss Durbin's leading man, Robert Stack. [illegible]

Have Yourself An Anecdote

The parent of anecdotal humor was old Joe and the publicists draw upon him heavily. Pay attention, class: "Tommy Riggs was anxious for a quick sandwich at Reuben's the other morning and requested 'Please get me a fast waiter.' The manager demurred. 'Better take a slow one,' he replied, 'or you'll wait too long. Everybody wants the fast one!'"

Or Willie Howard tells of the budding playwright whose first effort was rejected by the prominent producer who thoughtfully enclosed with the manuscript a note stating his reason for turning it down. "It's a fairly good play," he said, "but not quite deep enough!"

"I can't understand his saying that," said the perplexed author. "I made it six carbon copies deep!" Before the typewriter age, old Joe Miller had invented a gag like that.

Humor pursues all patterns in the grist through the mad mill. There's whimsy such as Will Osborne's. He wonders if I've heard the one about the pigeon who had a date for lunch in Peekskill and cocktails in Central Park. He was so late for the cocktail party that his friends were worried, but he finally showed up. "It was such a lovely day," he explained, "that I decided to walk."

Jessel himself says that now the Germans announce the use of a 70-ton tank, he has his first intimation of the whereabouts of General Goering.

ELLENDER AND OVERTON BACK EARL K. LONG

Long was "hooked up" with "Dick Leche, Seymour Weiss, Monte Hart and that gang."

Leche, Weiss, Hart and many others once prominent in state administration ranks are under indictment in the scandal investigations.

"Why everybody in Louisiana knows," Long said, "that Seymour Weiss, Monte Hart and the rest of them went around for nearly four years saying that Earl Long would never be governor.

"But after Seymour Weiss and Monte Hart were convicted by a jury in federal court I saw Jimmy Noe go into the Roosevelt (New Orleans hotel operated by Weiss) with them and put [illegible]."

Long said it was he who gave the federal government the information which led to the indictment of Weiss, Hart and others in the "double-dip" sale of Bienville hotel furnishings to Louisiana State university.

Long said he had stopped the [illegible] per cent "deducts" from state employes' salaries some time ago but that the Times-Picayune never gave him any credit for it.

"Now that some of our friends are contributing some money out of their salaries for the campaign," he said, "the Times-Picayune is raising hell.

"They never cared about money being taken out of the pay of state employes. All they wanted was for the chest to be bare so we wouldn't have any money to make a campaign on."

James H. Morrison, another candidate, said at Homer that "the Leche-Earl Long-Bob Maestri machine" had "wrecked Louisiana and caused the greatest political scandal in the history of America."

"With over 200 indictments from top to bottom," he said, "there is no question in the public's mind that this machine is absolutely corrupt and wicked."

Morrison denounced Governor Long as "the unelected governor of Louisiana, a double crosser, betrayer and arch hypocrite, a little stoogey Charles McCarthy sitting upon the knee of Bob Maestri whimpering 'Yes, Bob, anything you say is what I mean.'"

"I'm out to get them," he said, "every single rotten one of them and on January 16, when I'm elected governor, they'd better leave Louisiana because I'm planning to enlarge Angola penitentiary to accommodate them."

Morrison said Candidate James A. Noe was a "dead issue" and that "old applehead" couldn't understand "why it is impossible to play ball with both the thieves and with the people and get the people's vote."

Candidate Sam Jones, he continued, had "started down the hill and many of his supporters are throwing away their Jones buttons." He said that in Baton Rouge Wednesday night Jones "could have held his political rally in a phone booth."

Sam Jones said at Pollock that Governor Long "lost his head, and is now making wild statements and offers about betting."

"In the first place," said Jones, "there's a law against that kind of stuff in this state. You know, there's an old saying that whom the gods would destroy they first make mad. It's the hit dog that howls."

Jones said he was glad Long had promised to put him on relief after the January primary because "if by some hook or crook he should accidentally be elected we'll all be having to get on relief in this state."

"The minute anybody opposes this administration," he said, "they send their hired hands around telling the people that that man is opposed to the poor people. Well, this time they've got a man against them that they can't say that about, at least not with any truth."

Noe at Houma, continued his attack on Governor Long and the state administration for their asserted failure to aid sugar cane growers.

Noe emphasized that he wished to help Louisiana produce its full amount of sugar so as to create jobs and money for the "state's second most important agricultural crop."

Noe said that last year when it looked like the sugar men were making some headway in the fight against government restrictions "something happened."

"Dick Leche, then governor, was in retirement, and the acting governor at the time, Earl K. Long, didn't seem to know that there was such a thing as cane in Louisiana," Noe said.

"You know the result—the state failed to stand behind the industry."

Vincent Moseley said at Vivian that "just because he hasn't been proved guilty of blowing a safe, Governor Earl K. Long imagines that the people should elect him chief executive."

"Earl Long says that he is running on his record," Moseley said. "That record, which he claims is 'snow white,' is just about the weakest obstacle any candidate has to overcome. Why play the barrier so low that a little zabbling duck could toddle over it?

"How did he accumulate wealth in four years as lieutenant-governor, entering office penniless and now owning the $186,000 Hammond Progress, and other assets, and how and where did he obtain the money with which to purchase the two apartment buildings in New Orleans that he offered to bet another candidate?"

income tax evasion, would "go straight."

Hospital attendants who saw Capone said he looked "pale and weak." His wife, mother and brother Ralph, were with him when he arrived and arrangements were made for the latter to occupy the second bedroom of the expensive suite.

No one about the hospital seemed certain who sent him the huge bunch of chrysanthemums, but they made a gleaming backdrop while Capone idly played cards with his brother until ordered to sleep last night.

Meanwhile, Chicago police intensified their investigation of a possible link between Capone's old organization and last week's shotgun slaying of Edward J. O'Hare, president of the Sportsman's Park race track.

Captain Daniel Gilbert, chief of the state's attorney's investigators, asserted "there is no longer any doubt about it being a Capone job." He said he had learned Capone gangsters were involved in a dispute at Sportsman's Park about 10 days before O'Hare's assassination.

Capone left Sunday night from Terminal Island prison, San Diego, Calif., where he had been transferred from Alcatraz because of his physical condition. With his guards, he left the train at Harrisburg, Pa., and motored to Lewisburg, where he was formally released.

Given the customary suit of clothes but not the customary $10—he left immediately with relatives and motored direct to Baltimore.

operations to do "more cruising than raiding." One of the three merchantmen said to have been sunk by a pocket warship was a neutral.

British officially discounted recent naval losses as "the price we have to pay for command of the seas" and pointed also to Germany's loss of four ships in the past week—two, the Uehenfels and the Leander, sunk, and two others, the Parana and the Mecklenberg, scuttled by their crews to avoid capture.

A royal air force casualty list yesterday raised the toll of British airmen killed since the start of the war from 135 to 165, including seven killed in action and 23 "in active service."

EUROPE'S CONFLICT STILL CHIEFLY TALK

(By Associated Press)

Europe's conflict continued today to be fought mainly on the verbal front.

British military authorities offered the "conviction" that disagreement between Adolf Hitler and his general staff caused "indecisive tactics" by the Nazis on the western front.

German authorities already had hinted their tactics would be changed from the defensive to the offensive—but at the same time weighed anew how the Nazis would feel toward a mediation offer by President Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt's name was injected into informal peace talk in Germany October 6. German authorities said Hitler would accept an armistice if proposed by the American executive with a view to a general European settlement.

That talk ran its course in a week when Washington made it clear it had received no formal invitation to offer mediation and even if it should receive one the chances were it would take no action unless assured in advance that Great Britain and France would listen.

Berlin introduced President Roosevelt's name again today, saying Germany would not be interested in any general mediation offer but would be likely to respond if he asked the belligerents to outline their war aims as a move toward finding a common basis for mediation.

Both French and German communiques recorded minor activity on the western front, but war planes were busy.

Air alarms were sounded in Lyon and Marseille as German airplanes continued flights over southeastern France; a German plane flew over the Shetland islands, north of Scotland.

The Bohemia-Moravia protectorate, the territory Germany took in the dismemberment of Czecho-Slovakia, continued to test German authorities.

Hitler's black-shirted elite guards occupied Czech high schools and a technical institute and took away some 1,200 students.

There was no immediate explanation—but 2,000 students demonstrated on Wednesday against the government Germany set up in the protectorate.

A meeting of the allied supreme war council was planned in London; French Premier Daladier left Paris to attend.

The British war office called for 20,000 men for home defense battalions, at the same time a recruiting campaign opened to increase from 20,000 to 40,000 the strength of the women's auxiliary territorial service whose members serve as clerks, cooks, chauffeurs, etc.

Operations in the undeclared war between Japan and China shifted to southeastern China, near China's avenue to French Indo-China and British Burma. Japanese reported their forces had driven 30 miles north from the coast since Wednesday.

GERMANS OCCUPY SEVERAL CZECH SCHOOLS

PRAGUE, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Czech high schools and the Karlovy University Technical institute were occupied early this morning by German Schutzstaffel (SS) detachments and about 1,200 students, boys and girls, were hauled away in buses.

Reasons for this action by Adolf Hitler's black-shirt elite guard were vague. Shots were heard at Masaryk college, but apparently no one was injured.

About noon SS armored cars were seen passing through the city which then was reported quiet.

On Wednesday, about 2,000 Czech students demonstrated against the Bohemia-Moravia protectorate government set up by Germany in the dissolution of Czecho-Slovakia.

Sixteen of the throng were reported to have been arrested that day. The large body of students attempted to escort the coffin of a fellow student who died of injuries October 28.

Police dispersed the demonstrators, but they tried to force their way into Wenceslas square and Karl's square from side streets, chanting Slavic songs.

CORRESPONDENT TO DISCUSS WAR

Town Hall Members Will Hear Arno Dosch-Fleurot Monday Night

The first war correspondent to reach the United States from the western front has just accepted an invitation to address the Town Hall meeting of the Monroe club at Northeast Junior college auditorium next Monday at 8 p.m. The date has been changed from the one originally announced, stated S. A. Moss, club president.

The correspondent is Arno Dosch-Fleurot, born in Oregon, Harvard graduate and for 25 years a correspondent in Europe for American newspapers. He comes with a red hot story of happenings in Europe and along the western front since the outbreak of the "second world war." Back of the story there is a background of 25 years of intimate acquaintance with every phase of European politics, intrigue, and statesmanship.

Arno Dosch-Fleurot has always believed in being first. He went to Europe on the first boat after the outbreak of the first war to cover happenings for the World's Work. He was present during the invason of Belgium, the burning of Louvain, the battles of the Marne and the Ainse and he gave the first account of the original British expeditionary force.

Later he was with the allied armies in Syria and in Egypt. After covering the battle of Verdun in 1916 he was sent to Russia by the New York World. He was the only foreign correspondent to cover the entire Russian revolution. Two days after the armistice he was in Berlin. After the first World war he served in Paris, Hungary, covered the Polish-Soviet war and the Sinn-Fein rebellion in Ireland and most of the later events in Europe. He has just landed in America.

SOFT DRINK PARLOR OPERATOR IS SLAIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Children shouted in the dark street off the Bowery.

Angelo Greco, 48, stood peacefully smoking, his body a silhouette in the doorway of his soft drink parlor. Four pistol shots sounded.

Two bullets struck Greco; he never will finish his cigaret.

The noisy, crowded street was silent and empty when the detectives came. Nobody had seen the killers.

Police said Greco had engaged at times in occupations "where money is made more easily than by handling a shovel." They carted him away.

The street grew noisy again. Children played in the doorway.

CALVERT MEETING SCHEDULED MONDAY

How present day liquor distribution and retail merchandising is being streamlined to keep pace with developments in other fields, will be the subject of a meeting to be held by Calvert Distillers corporation in Shreveport Monday, to which liquor dealers and their clerks from Monroe and the surrounding territory have been invited.

This meeting is being sponsored by the Monroe Wholesale Drug company, Inc., of Monroe, and the Shreveport Beverage agency of Shreveport, Calvert's distributors in the north Louisiana area.

The Calvert men, E. G. Hoencke, director of trade relations, Charles A. Colmesnil, assistant director of trade relations, and Dr. B. L. Riback, educational director, who will be introduced by Frank Kastner, Calvert's southern division manager, will, through the medium of playlet, charts, demonstration and pictures, show the assembled retailers how they can attract more customers to their establishments through store modernization and modern merchandising methods. Through the use of a simplified accounting system available to retailers through the Calvert jobbers, they will demonstrate how to be informed continuously as to the profit status of their business.

The coming Sunday will mark the first anniversary of Rev. J. T. Hinke as pastor of Peniel Baptist church, which is ending a year of exceptional achievement. There have been 175 added to the membership in the past 12 months and a new building has been erected.

All who live in the neighborhood of this church are invited to attend the Sunday services.

As speaker for the morning hour, 11 a.m., H. K. Litton, outstanding layman of Monroe, will bring the message. He will speak in the absence of the pastor, who is engaged in a revival meeting at Eros.

The anniversary message will be delivered by the pastor at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. His theme will be "Does Jesus Care?"

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

YESTERDAY: After the study is broken into, Michael tells Tuck and Bunny about Murchison's disappearance, and the anonymous diamond note. In turn, Tuck tells him about the professor's pipe. Looking in the drawer where Tuck found the pipe, Michael finds a piece of paper with the printed bloody hand.

Invitation To Bridge

MICHAEL had crumpled that [illegible]

"Bridge," said Bunny laconically.

Michael groaned.

"Such stupidity," said Tuck evenly. "I have rarely encountered. Bridge, as bridge, is never played at a mixed party. One talks. One listens. One gathers impressions."

"Where does she get twelve?"

"Well—apparently, two McBains, three Forresters, two Deans, one Lassey, two Devoes and Mrs. Murchison and Duncan. That's twelve."

"I forgot Mrs. Devoe," Bunny murmured, helping herself to the marmalade.

[illegible] Tuck [illegible] "Just think of all [illegible] There's simply no place like a bridge table for [illegible] people's expressions and [illegible] without their suspecting [illegible]

"'I hope you'll excuse the haste and informality of the invitation, but I thought it would be nice for you to meet your neighbors, and so I have asked three tables for tonight, just the people on the campus and Duncan Murchison to make the twelfth. Please tell your husband it's only dinner jackets, quite informal, and I do hope you can come.'"

"Three tables?" Michael inquired blankly.

[illegible] am a piece [illegible] we are in it [illegible] for ten million dollars until it's settled, and I am not going to get all shivery about it. All I'm scared about is that the people who are guilty are cleverer than we are."

"What is it De Quincey says about murder, Michael? Something about it being rude to murder a sick man," Bunny murmured. "The child's been reading him. She's got his attitude exactly."

Michael did not answer. He drew a deep breath. "I am relieved," he said after a moment. "I have a fear—I confess—that this thing may not turn out to be very pleasant. I was dreading telling you."

They waited.

"There are aspects of it . . ." he began, and stopped.

"Go on," Tuck urged.

orld Famed Group Will elight Local Musicians; Tickets Now Selling

Tickets are being sold lively these ys by members of the Fine Arts ub and the Y's Men's club for the eneral Platoff Don Cossack choir at will entertain at Neville High hool auditorium on Wednesday, November 22, at 8 p.m.

These two organizations have guaranteed the rather sizable sum that is required in order to secure this unusually high class attraction for Monroe.

The group ranks with the most outstanding musicians that have ever appeared before a Twin City audience. There are 25 in the cast and they have been given a royal welcome wherever they have appeared. The choir has visited almost every country on the globe and this is their second tour in North America.

Those who have heard the concert in other cities state that no real music lover can afford to miss hearing this attraction and a number here are planning to hear it again for the second time, having heard it elsewhere and being particularly charmed with the diversified and tuneful numbers that are presented at each performance.

must not interview the 52-year-old educator.

"I understand that you have a story to write," she said, "but I wish that you would be as sympathetic as you possibly can."

In the darkened hospital room, Dr. Smith turned over at the sound of voices and murmured: "Hello, son."

Her eyes filling, Mrs. Smith said:

"If he had been a man who had been down all his life and had dropped a step lower, it would not have been so bad.

"But for a man who had been up like Dr. Smith had, and then to come to this, it was just too much for him to stand."

The suicide attempt came "as a great shock to the family," she asserted, as her husband had appeared cheerful Tuesday night when she played a game of Chinese checkers with him in his cell.

"Dr. Smith seemed more cheerful than at any time since this trouble began," she said.

In an interview given shortly after pleading guilty to federal mail fraud and income tax evasion charges at New Orleans last Friday Smith expressed regret for what he had done.

"I was drawn into all this and once in there was no out but to face the future with a brave face," he said then, asserting he hoped he could make some contrbiution to society after being released from jail.

A key figure in the Louisiana political scandals, Smith also pleaded guilty here to state charges involving his fraudulent use of university bonds in huge market speculations in which he negotiated $500,000 loans in the school's name to provide collateral.

Dr. T. Jeff McHugh, one of Smith's attending physicians, said he believed the semi-bald educator might be sufficiently well to begin serving his sentence within a few days although he might be unable to walk for some time. He had been scheduled to enter the state penitentiary this morning.

Smith's blood pressure rose from 80 to 100 this morning. His normal count is 110.

During a large portion of the night Dr. Smith's wife, his daughter, Mrs. Owen Walter Ware, and his son, James M. Smith Jr., sat outside his hospital door.

"When I left him Tuesday evening he was in the most cheerful mood that I have seen him since the trouble began," Mrs. Smith said. He had pleaded guilty on the state charges and received his state sentence the day before.

"He gave no indication of what was on his mind," Mrs. Smith said and Dr. Smith himself has had no comment further than that to the jail attendant yesterday morning that "I have [illegible] something on my foot."

Dr. Jeff T. McHugh, the family physician, one of three physicians called in the case yesterday, said that while the wound could easily have been fatal, he is quite sure that Dr. Smith's blood pressure will be restored to normal in a few days and that in two weeks his wound should be sufficiently healed so he can walk.

Sheriff Newman H. deBretton, of East Baton Rouge parish, who reported Dr. Smith's suicide attempt yesterday, asserted that this was his second try at his own life. He said that a jail attendant shortly after Dr. Smith was arrested last summer intercepted an order of poison being delivered to his cell in the parish prison.

Two men involved in the Louisiana scandals have committed suicide.

DUNCE CAP ONE OF PRESIDENT'S FAVORITE IDEAS

president was asked about the third term. He threw back his head and laughed, and then asked if the reporter was suggesting that he spend his holidays in the Black hills of South Dakota.

August 4, 1939: Postmaster General Farley in Berlin: "Only Mr. Roosevelt knows whether Mr. Roosevelt will run again, and he hasn't seen fit to tell."

Nov. 10, 1939: Asked at his press conference if the announcement that friends of Vice-President Garner were pressing the Texan's candidacy would make any change in his plans, the president threw back his head, laughed and said don't be so subtle.

He didn't get a chance to mention the dunce cap and the corner, for a reporter said it for him.

The strange thing about it all is that the room in which the president holds his press conferences is circular.

1. It has no corners.
2. No one has ever produced a dunce cap.

Charles Felt, reported from Germantown hospital:

"She had something to eat for the first time in days. She's stronger. Her condition is satisfactory."

Physicians here, however, persisted in the belief that the transfusion would be of little avail; that the disease is incurable and that no one has survived it.

As for Mrs. Root's having had leukemia, Dr. Joseph Fleitas, Kathryn's physician, said that "in the light of present day knowledge" the diagnosis was incorrect.

"It is our opinion, as it has been from the beginning, that there is no known recovery from acute lymphatic leukemia," he and his associates said in a statement.

UNEMPLOYMENT BLAMED UPON SCHOOL SYSTEM

(1900-1915), the old-fashioned economics were unconsciously taught," Babson continued. "The 'root, hog, or die' attitude was unconsciously put forth. Integrity, industry, thrift, directed by intelligence and courage, was the philosophy of the old-fashioned school. Now, in these New Deal days, the situation is largely changed.

"Hence, the graduates of our schools are going out with what many of us believe to be false philosophy or no philosophy; certainly with a false economy. * * * Business men, who formerly have been 'customers' of the school by hiring its graduates, no longer can afford to accept worthless goods.

"I again say," Babson concluded, "that there are many reasons for this unemployment, but I do ask if our educational system may not be the most potent cause? * * * If the educational system is largely responsible for turning out young people whom employers do not want, we may be facing even greater unemployment. My own opinion is that we will get back to normal employment only after school committees are purged of politics."

'FATHER OF ART IN NEW ORLEANS' DIES

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—William W. Woodward, 81, the "father of art in New Orleans," and professor emeritus of Newcomb College of Art, died here today at Baptist hospital.

Professor Woodward, a native of Seekonk, Mass., came to Tulane university in 1884 to become professor of drawing and painting; later he established the Tulane School of Architecture.

Artist and art critic, he had long been identified with cultural circles of New Orleans up to and after his retirement from active professorship at Newcomb, co-educational college of Tulane, in 1921.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow at 1 p.m., and the body will be taken to Biloxi, Miss., where he maintained his coast residence, for final rites and interment at 4 p.m. in Southern Memorial park.

Professor Woodward is survived by two daughters and two sons: Mrs. Brainbridge Logan and Carl E. Woodward of New Orleans; Mrs. George C. Moseley of Atlanta, Ga., and William G. Woodward of Syracuse, N. Y.

The Lions beat Vivian 48 to 6 and trounced Jonesboro-Hodge, 7 to 6. The loss to Normal's Imps was by a score of 32 to 6.

Byrd has some hard running backs in Noyes Livingston, James Stephenson, Maurice Tinsley, Bob Lindsey and Eugene Russ, and star linemen in Sid Boone and James Kihneman, ends, Bob Wiley and Jimmy Atkinson, tackles, and Nick Elina, the Jackets' candidate for all-state center.

Clayton Brown bears the load in Ouachita's backfield, but Bruce Gregg who was able to play only a short time against Fair Park because of an injury, should be ready to give Brown plenty assistance tonight. James Hewitt and James Kimball have proved dependable blocking backs, with Kimball also outstanding defensively. Velpo Guess looked good last week on off tackle reverses and will play a good part of the game. Mitchell Funderburk at left end is one of the Lions' standout linemen. Bill Eason has developed considerable along with guards, Bill Haynes and Bill Edgar.

The probable starting lineup:

LIONS GIRD RESERVES FOR TILT WITH TULANE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Winding up heavy preparations for their game with unbeaten Tulane, the Columbia Lions reviewed their offensive and defensive formations Thursday with special attention being given the second team.

Coach Lou Little kept his reserves on the field for a full hour after the varsity had been dismissed. All members of the squad were in good condition and most of them likely to be used.

Texas A. and M. apparently had the nation's strongest forward wall. It held its opposition to 374 yards by rushing in eight games for the surprisingly low average of 46.8 a game. The Aggies were followed by Tulane, Boston college, Southern California, Oregon State college, Santa Clara, Baylor, Holy Cross, Florida and Penn State.

Texas A. and M. intercepted 23 of its foes' passes, with Boston college second with 20 and Cornell third with 18.

Auburn, with a 44.9 average, had the best punting team, followed by Alabama, Washington State college, North Carolina and Army.

BABY TIGERS BEAT COLUMBIA B SQUAD

The Neville High school Junior Tigers won their third victory of the season last night as they downed the Columbia High school "B" team, 12 to 0, at Brown field.

Both teams battled evenly throughout the first half, playing strictly defensive ball as the running and passing attack on both sides was held in check.

The Baby Bengals went ahead in the third quarter, however, when Ben Francis got loose on a wide end run to score. J. M. Head's try for the point failed.

The second touchdown for the Kittens was scored after Guard Joe Accardo had covered a Columbia fumble deep in the visitors' territory. A pass, "Red" Cascio to Head, netted the touchdown.

"Hot" Lasuzza, Joe McQuiston and Joe Accardo were the standouts of the Neville line, while Captain Sam Ladart, Charles Accardo did some good defensive work in the backfield while letting Cascio, Head and Francis do most of the ball carrying.

Tommy Younse is still at center in the place of the ailing John Nicosia; Roy Smith is still holding down for the injured Hal Hanson at tackle; Mike Miholic will start at guard today instead of Rudy Broussard, who was suspended from the squad this week, and Ralph Taylor is replacing the injured Buster Macon at end.

There are several backs on the Tribe's hospital roll, but most of them will be able to play some. Robert Max, Max Hutchins and Guy Bryson are the only backs not bothered with injuries at present. "Preacher" Blackwell, not fully recovered from an old injury, has been named in the starting lineup, and other backs nursing minor injuries or old ones that have about been overcome are Harry Morton, Don Short, R. L. Singleton, Ceres Frey and Ron Winters. "Dub" Taylor, a star of the Indian victory over Copiah-Lincoln two weeks ago, will be definitely out of the backfield as the result of a leg fracture.

Southeastern has been beaten only once this year, losing to Louisiana State Normal's Demons, who are leading the S. I. A. A. conference at the present.

DEMONS, IMPS WILL DEFEND GOOD RECORDS

Undefeated State Normal Teams Play In Double Feature Today

NATCHITOCHES, La., Nov. 17 (Special)—Both the varsity and freshman grid teams at the Louisiana State Normal college here will defend unblemished records Friday when the Demons meet the Ouachita college Tigers of Arkadelphia, Ark., on the local field and the frosh play the Southwestern Bullpups of Lafayette. The varsity tilt will begin at 2:45 p.m., while the Imps will play the down-state freshmen Friday night at [illegible] o'clock.

With the exception of Woodrow Miller, first-string tackle, who [illegible] hurt in the game against the Murray Teachers last week, and Sam Scurria, regular center, who is still suffering a leg injury received in the Stephen F. Austin battle [illegible] the varsity squad will be in fine condition for the Tigers, the Demon mentor announced Thursday.

RAMOS DEFEATS OTTO LUDWIG IN FAST MAT FINAL

Sailor Drops Parelli In Supporting Event; Wins Silver Cup

Judging from their applause, Monroe mat fans witnessed some of the best wrestling seen here in several months last night as Carlos Ramos, Mexican grappler recognized by the National Wrestling association as the world's junior light-heavyweight champion, defeated Otto Ludwig, German [illegible] two out of three falls in the main event.

In the semi-[illegible] Sailor Watkins got the best of Joe Parelli in a renewal of their feud as the boys fought the pair [illegible] second fall. Watkins had taken the first fall.

In the main event Ludwig [illegible] the first fall in [illegible] minutes with a surfboard [illegible] the Mexican after [illegible] won the fall with a punishing hammer lock.

The hammer lock hold lasted fully half of the first fall. Ludwig finally broke the hold after several vain attempts, during which the champion held his advantage with quick work.

Ramos quickly showed fans why he is a champion, displaying tiger-like agility and lightning speed in a punishing assault on Ludwig's left arm in the opening fall.

The German's port flipper hung numb and useless after the title holder had finished with his long hammer lock, and it was only through his success in fending off the Mexican's onslaught until he could regain use of the arm that Ludwig was able to take the fall.

The junior light-heavyweight champion captured a fast second fall in 12 minutes with a "church bell," a special hold never seen before last night in the local arena.

Ramos gave evidence of a carefully-planned attack on Ludwig's hurt arm after the first fall, concentrating mostly on arm holds during the remainder of the bout and taking the third and deciding fall into camp in eight minutes with a shoulder pin.

The type of wrestling shown by the champion and Ludwig proved highly popular with the spectators. Ramos made it clear that he wrestled his way to the title on sheer ability and Ludwig, faced with the excellent game of his opponent, brought forth the best, hardest grappling he has displayed here.

Watkins and Parelli took up in their feud where they left off several weeks ago when the Sailor lost to the Italian while unmasking his opponent, who was then known to local fans as the Masked Marvel.

The former navy champion took the first fall in 25 minutes with a [illegible] slam and almost won the second go for a clean-cut victory when he had Parelli in trouble with a rocking chair split.

Watkins gained permanent possession of the [illegible] cup emblematic of greatest popularity with [illegible] fans [illegible] taking the vote [illegible].

The [illegible] have [illegible] struggle [illegible] the first voting and [illegible] final last [illegible]. The ex-gob took the balloting last night in spite of the fact that the contest was delayed until after the first fall of the final so that fans [illegible] get a look at Ramos before voting.

Promoter Gus Kelly said last night that another contest would be held soon to determine the matman who [illegible] most popular with fans. Watkins will not compete in the next contest. Besides proving much [illegible] the winning man in enabling him to secure contests in other arenas, [illegible] contest aids Promoter Kelly in selecting wrestling cards [illegible] with the most appeal [illegible] fans.

Promoter Kelly [illegible] get the West [illegible] a match at the local arena next week.

PLAINSMEN ENTRAIN FOR BATTLE WITH BENGALS

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 17.—(AP)—After a general rehearsal of offensive and defensive formations, 33 Auburn Plainsmen entrained Thursday night for Baton Rouge and the Louisiana State game Saturday.

The squad was minus the services of W[illegible] Wise, guard, who suffered a broken leg in the Villanova contest, [illegible] he was in good condition. There will be a light workout at Baton Rouge Friday afternoon.

Starters against Louisiana State probably will be Frank or McGehee and Sanford, ends; Bulger and [illegible], tackles; Captain Howell and M[illegible], guards; Morgan, center; Cheatham, quarterback; McGowen and Harper, halfbacks, and Deal, fullback.

CAGERS TO PLAY

The boys' and girls' basketball teams of St. Matthew's Parochial school will engage the Oak Ride boys' and girls' teams on the St. Matthew's court at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The boys' quintet will be composed of R. Magnani, F. Breard, F. Hill, V. Anzalone and B. Magnani or D. Kokinos.

HIGH SCHOOL BOWL GAME AT MIAMI TO BE HELD CHRISTMAS

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A national high school football championship game to be played at Miami, Fla., Christmas day and dubbed the "Starlet Bowl" was announced Thursday night by the National Sports Council of the committee for the celebration of the president's birthday.

Grantland Rice, chairman of the council, said the game would be an annual affair with all proceeds over traveling expenses for the teams and incidentals going to the fund to fight infantile paralysis.

"Selection of the teams will be made by a special committee of sports authorities to be named by Rice [illegible] a nationally known sports [illegible]."

High schools throughout the 48 states are being notified of the game [illegible] parts must conform to the eligibility standards of the National Federation of State High School associations.

The game will be played in the Orange Bowl, scene of an annual intercollegiate contest on New Year's day. The stadium is being enlarged to seat 20,000 and [illegible] at [illegible] cost [illegible]. Players will be quartered free at Miami [illegible] and a perpetual trophy will be donated.

For [illegible] years Miami has held an intersectional high school Christmas game with the local eleven taking on some outstanding opponent.

Because Miami High had consented to cancel its proposed game this year and will [illegible] consideration as one of the representatives in the championship clash. The team is undefeated and [illegible] 34 consecutive games, including last season.

TALLULAH CRIPPLED FOR MANGHAM GAME TONIGHT

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 17.—(Special)—The crippled Tallulah High school Trojans meet the Mangham Dragons here Friday night in the locals' third Class A conference game of the season. If Tallulah gets by Mangham and beats Rayville on November 30, the Trojans will lay claim to a place in the district title playoff which will probably be with the strong Homer Pelicans.

Coach "Ma" Philips' charges will go into action with seven and possible eight players missing from the squad. The loss of J. W. and Pete Lagarde, reserve tackles, who dropped out of school Thursday, has weakened the reserve strength, and others out of action will be John Gaines, Harry Bankston, W. Curry, Leoty and Jones.

Harmon, Kinnick, Christman Or Cafego May Be Voted Outstanding

By Bill Boni

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Tom Harmon's last two games for Michigan this season, against Pennsylvania at Philadelphia Saturday and against Ohio State the following week, will give the Michigan halfback a chance to get back in the running for the Heisman Memorial trophy. The trophy is awarded each December by New York's downtown athletic club to the outstanding football player of the year.

The first 100 ballots that came in showed four men leading in the race. They are Harmon, Iowa's Nile Kinnick, Paul Christman of Missouri and George Cafego, Tennessee's all-around star.

Kinnick will lead the rejuvenated Hawkeyes against Minnesota Saturday and Christman will be out there pitching for the Tigers against unbeaten Oklahoma in one of Saturday's naturals. Cafego was hurt in last week's "breather" with The Citadel.

In the midwest they say the absence of blocking Back Forrest Evashevski hobbled Harmon seriously in his last two starts. But Evashevski is expected to be ready for Penn, which sounds like bad news for the Red and Blue.

Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State's great pass-catcher, is criticized in some quarters for defensive weakness. They say too much ground is gained around his end. But one of this corner's southern scouts reports this is due in large measure to the fact that, on defense, Coach Bernie Moore drops his towering wingman back to guard against enemy aerials. Since one man hardly can be expected to handle that job and play a crashing end at the same time, that may explain the gains.

In addition to the Heisman trophy poll, there's another going on for selection of the leading team in the east. Winner of this race gets the Lambert Memorial trophy, on which Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech have had a monopoly the last few years. This fall there's another Pittsburgh team in the race, unbeaten and untied Duquesne, which is giving Cornell a stiff battle in the ballots.

Because Ribs Baysinger's Syracuse freshman teams haven't lost a game in three years, and walloped an undefeated and unscored-on Cornell team, 26-6, last Friday, the Syracuse alumni wolves are howling for Ossie Solem's scalp. A hitch in the "bounce Solem" drive (which might die a sudden death should the Orange beat Colgate Saturday) is the fact that Solem's contract, they say, has two more years to run.

A glance at our football notebook shows that, of the last six games we've charted, the Army-Yale game produced the most action. There were 153 plays in that one, exclusive of penalties and tries for point after touchdown. The slowest was Alabama-Fordham, with 131, and the average for the six is 143, or about 36 plays per period.

Taking that as a fair general average, it means that in last week-end's Centenary-Texas Tech scoreless tie, in which there were 75 kicks, the boys must have been punting on second down all afternoon. They didn't do much else, for Centenary had a net rushing gain of plus 31 yards, Tech of minus 8.

Of 13 teams this observer has looked at, North Carolina against Penn was by far the most impressive. Jim (Sweet) Lalanne, who stacks up against George McAfee and Duke in the southern headliner Saturday, carried Carolina to three touchdowns in six plays against Penn—which, even though all of them started on or within Penn's 30-yard line, is still better than par for the course.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Dempsey-Willard fight films convinced New York experts the Dempsey of 1919 would have half killed Joe Louis. . . . The sensation of North Carolina's secret practice this week has been a back named Roy Connor, hitherto unheard of and he may be the surprise package against Duke. . . . Jimmy Finley, Sarasota, Fla., fight promoter, escaped with a ducking when his new car plunged into 40 feet of water in Tampa bay. . . . Gus Lesnevich's rooters at Cliffside, N. J., have bet $3,000 on him against Billy Conn tonight at 13-5 odds and the Cliffside police chief is holding the bets.

Gene Kessler, Chicago Times: "If Harry Thomas' conscience is bothering him so much, why doesn't he give that money he says he got for 'laying down' to Galento and Schmeling to the community funds in Philadelphia and New York where the fans were duped?"

Tom Harmon helps pay his way through Michigan by selling girls' shoes which makes it necessary for him to call at the sorority houses. Not so tuff . . . Gus Henderson, coach of the Detroit Lions, gives his players $5 bonuses every time they recover a fumble or intercept a pass. . . . Joe Louis has made his last ring appearance until he faces Arturo Godoy in the Garden, February 9. . . . Two guys with an odd sense of humor called up Coach Joe Sheeketski the night before the Holy Cross-Temple game and told him Hank Giardi, his star back, was hurt in an automobile accident.

George Weiss, secretary of the Yanks: "Night baseball is a fad. . . . Already there is heavy talk against it by fans in cities where they have it. . . . Some clubs which have invested in lights are doing some serious thinking." . . . George is right—thinking of enlarging their ball parks.

Last minute B'way odds: Santa Clara-U. C. L. A. even; North Carolina 11-10 over Duke; Georgia Tech 10-9 over Alabama; Notre Dame 3-2 over Northwestern; Purdue ditto over Wisconsin; Pittsburgh 8-5 over Nebraska; Oklahoma 17-10 over Missouri; Colgate 17-10 over Syracuse; Michigan 13-5 over Penn; Tennessee 5-1 over Vanderbilt; Oregon State 3-1 over California; Ohio State 3-1 over Illinois; Princeton 3-1 over Yale; Tulane 3-1 over Columbia; Minnesota 9-5 over Iowa; Louisiana State 6-5 over Auburn; Detroit 6-5 over Manhattan; Army 13-10 over Penn State; Cornell 9-5 over Dartmouth; Stanford 9-5 over Washington State; Holy Cross 2-1 over Carnegie Tech; Texas Aggies 3-1 over Rice.

Kenneth Jones of Peoria is so thankful he is not one of the guys backing up the U. of Chicago line that he aims to celebrate both Thanksgiving days.

SOONER ENDS PLAN TO STOP PASS ATTACK

Oklahoma Believes Fast Rushing Will Halt Missouri Passing

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The battle cry, "they can't pass sitting down," traveled toward Columbia Thursday night with Oklahoma's unconquered Sooners, who meet mighty Missouri Saturday.

Rescued from the moth balls this week, the motto was originated last year by the Sooners' crashing ends as they stopped such touted tossers as Rice's Ernie Lain, Tulsa's Tommy Thompson and Missouri's Paul Christman, whose bullet passes they must face again.

When the Tigers came to Oklahoma in 1938, Sophomore Christman spent most of the afternoon in a horizontal position, gazing into the grinning faces of Waddy Young and John Shirk, smashing Sooner wingmen.

He hurled 15 passes that day, completing only four for a total of [illegible] yards. The rest missed their marks, four being intercepted and others batted down, simply because Pitchin' Paul had to get the ball away hurriedly before he was knocked loose from it.

Young was graduated with all-America honors. Shirk, now a senior, has been on the injured list but will be back for blood this week. Frank Ivy and Alton Coppage, two other senior ends, who can hit like a ten-ton truck, and a quartet of reserves are ready to help him with the chores.

If the Tigers remember what happened a year ago, they'll build a sandbag barricade and string barbed wire entanglements to protect their sensational sharpshooter, who sank Nebraska and N. Y. U. with his aerial barrage.

The Sooners would up a week of intensive drill Thursday.

Christman and his mates have a little defensive work cut out for themselves. In Beryl Clark, the Sooners boast a triple-threater whose passing average, ball-carrying and kicking all top those of the Tiger ace.

Seven Sooner foes have been able to complete only 37 passes in 121 attempts, for 502 yards and a percentage of .306.

It Likes You, Too

Youngsters know what's good. That's why 7-Up has become a favorite with the young folks as well as the grown-ups. Parents like to have their children drink 7-Up. They drink 7-Up themselves . . . and proudly serve it to old and young. The clear, uncolored "fresh up" drink appeals to all. Enjoy a chilled bottle of 7-Up today. You, too, will say: "I Like 7-Up—It Likes Me!"

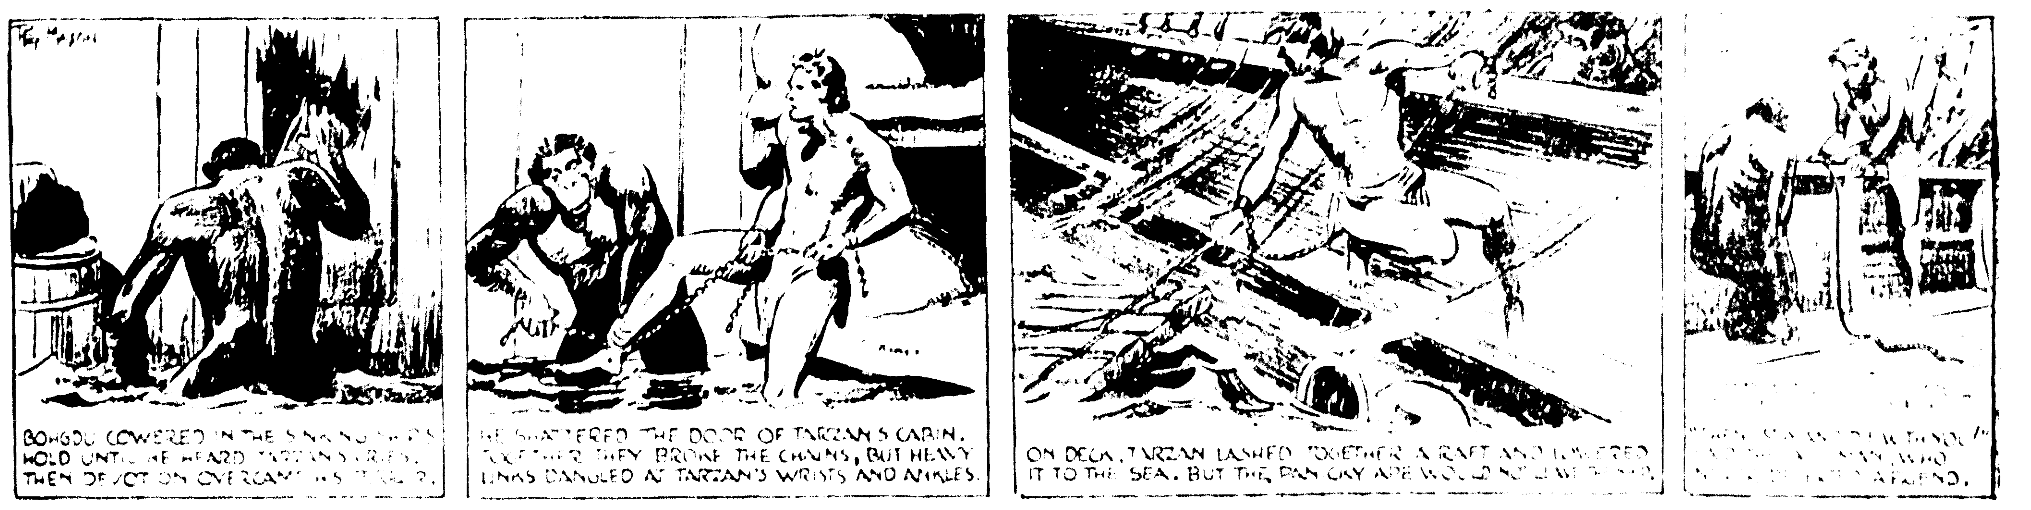
TARZAN

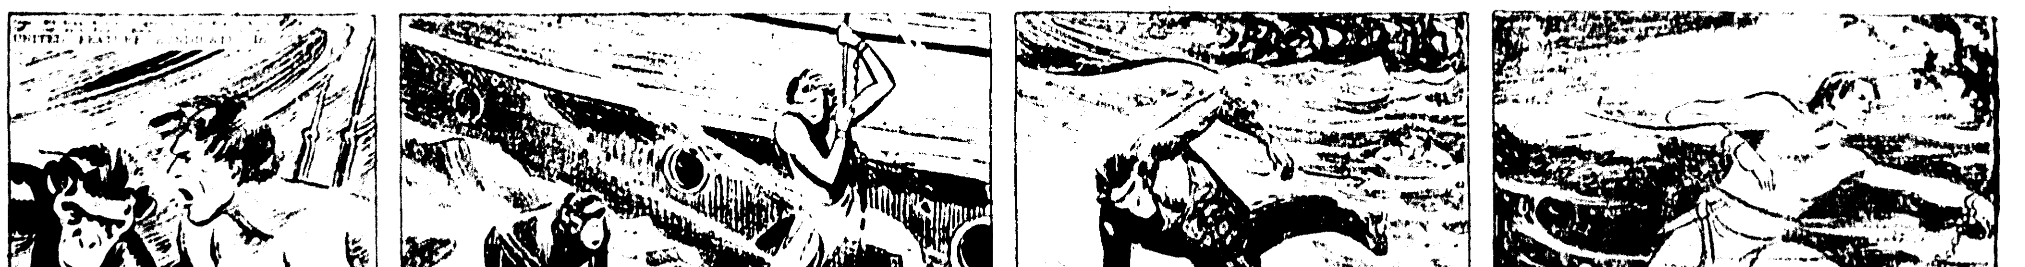
SAVED AND DOOMED

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



BOHGDU COWERED IN THE SINKING SHIP'S HOLD UNTIL HE HEARD TARZAN'S CRIES. THEN DEVOTION OVERCAME HIS TERROR.
HE SHATTERED THE DOOR OF TARZAN'S CABIN. TOGETHER THEY BROKE THE CHAINS, BUT HEAVY LINKS DANGLED AT TARZAN'S WRISTS AND ANKLES.
ON DECK, TARZAN LASHED TOGETHER A RAFT AND LOWERED IT TO THE SEA. BUT THE PANICKY APE WOULD NOT LEAVE THE SHIP.
... A FRIEND.

INTO THE SEA



TARZAN SHOUTED A WARNING THAT BOTH WOULD DIE IF BOHGDU STAYED ON THE SINKING SHIP.
THE APE CLIMBED DOWN TO THE RAFT. TARZAN FOLLOWED. IN A FEW MINUTES, THE MAKESHIFT CRAFT ....
...BEGAN TO BREAK UP. BOHGDU FELL INTO THE SEA. THE APE-MAN SWAM TO HELP HIM.
BUT HIS CHAINS WEIGHED HIM DOWN. IT WAS DOUBTFUL IF TARZAN COULD EVEN SAVE HIMSELF!

COTTON

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Cotton futures advanced nearly 50 cents a bale in early dealings here today but weakened later under profit-taking and liquidation. Final quotations were steady at net losses of one to three points.

SPOT COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Spot cotton closed steady 2 points net lower. Sales 2,751; low middling 8.61; middling 9.71; good middling 10.06; receipts 11,290; stock 685,418.

New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Cotton futures trading turned irregular in the afternoon giving up most of the early gains registered on firmness of markets abroad and active foreign and Wall Street buying.

The list settled back when buyers hesitated as the December delivery approached the theoretical loan repossession level. Increased southern selling and profit-taking was attracted by the early bulge and this also helped to depress values. Midafternoon prices ruled one point lower to two higher. December was unchanged at 9.64, May was down one at 9.[illegible] and October was two higher at 8.4[illegible].

Liverpool

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Cotton—Good business done in spot; prices 10 points [illegible]. Quotations in pence: American [illegible] good middling 7.7[illegible], good middling [illegible], strict middling 7.20, middling [illegible], strict low middling 7.00, low middling 6.55, strict good ordinary 6.1[illegible], good ordinary 5.75. Futures closed [illegible] points higher. Jan. 8.60, Mch. [illegible], May 6.[illegible], July 6.4[illegible], Oct. 6.30.

Cottonseed Oil

New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Bleachable cottonseed oil futures closed 4-7 lower. Sales [illegible] contracts. Dec 6.45, Jan 6.49b, March 6.67, May 6.76b, July 6.84b.

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Cottonseed oil closed steady. Bleachable prime summer yellow 6.22N; prime crude 5.[illegible]62 1-2. December 6.22B, January 6.[illegible]B, March 6.17B, May 6.27B, J[illegible]B.

Livestock

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—(USDA)—Salable hogs [illegible] total [illegible]; light hogs fairly active [illegible] 15 lower than Thursday's average; others and packing sows generally 15-25 off; extreme top 6.05 sparingly for choice lightweights; bulk 160-220 lbs. 5.80-[illegible]; 220-270 lbs. [illegible].

Salable cattle [illegible]; salable calves [illegible]. Most generally [illegible] prices on all grades and classes around steady; best [illegible] fed steers [illegible], other loads [illegible] 9.25; no choice fed heifers offered; [illegible] lots up to 8.65; beef cows draggy.

Salable sheep 3,000; total 6,000; late Thursday fat lambs 15-25 lower; other classes steady [illegible] top 9.25; bulk 8.90-9.10; yearlings 6.75-7.75; few 8.00; near choice deck 8.25; native slaughter ewes 3.75-4.50; fat lambs slow, steady to weak with Thursday.

Sugar

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—World sugars turned reactionary today as Cuban selling and European liquidation found buying limited. The December contract was steady on covering representing the stoppage of 80 delivery notices and sold at 1.45 1-2 up 1-2. Other positions in late trading were down 1 1-2 to 3 points. March 1.48; July 1.50.

Refiners were fair buyers of domestic futures early but dullness in the raw market restricted demand. The list in midafternoon was unchanged to 3 lower, March 1.86; May 1.89.

Raw sugar was quiet although one sale of duty free Philippines was confirmed at 3.10 cents for December-January shipment, unchanged from last sale. Cubas were offered at about 1.78 cents cost and freight. Refined held at 4.90 cents.

Poultry

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Poultry live, 2 cars, 44 trucks, springs firm, young tom turkeys easy, others steady; springs 4 lbs. up Plymouth Rock 14 1-2, White Rock 14 1-2, bareback chickens 11, geese 12 lbs. and down 14, young tom turkeys 16 1-2, other prices unchanged.

Butter And Eggs

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Butter 612,156, steady, prices unchanged. Eggs 3,897, steady, prices unchanged.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Efforts to build up another rally in the stock market today failed to gain much headway.

The list made a gesture toward higher territory at the start, then ran into sufficient profit taking to reduce or cancel gains running to a point or more.

Dealings were moderately speedy in the first hour, but it was a slow-motion production thereafter. Losses and gains of minor fractions were distributed throughout most departments at the close. Transfers approximated 850,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The stock market today balked at extending Thursday's climb and leading issues had all they could do to retain small advances.

The list moved up a shade at the start, did a bit better later, then met sufficient profit taking to reduce or erase gains running to a point or more. Dealings slowed appreciably after a fairly fast opening and, near the [illegible] fractional price changes [illegible] predominated.

Speculative [illegible] still [illegible] on Europe's waiting war, brokers said, and the buying urge of yesterday chilled a trifle as arguments became more heated in Wall Street regarding the possibility of a business letdown in the forepart of 1940.

At that, much encouragement apparently was derived from the belief that investment holdings of importance were still intact and traders continued to display a notable reluctance to sell. The current industrial horizon remained as the principal market bulwark and [illegible] buying [illegible] then.

B[illegible] were [illegible] as were most foreign securities markets. Commodities were a shade mixed.

Utilities drew a larger following than usual as more attention was given the [illegible] earnings of the [illegible] power concerns.

Some offering came out in General Electric [illegible] the [illegible] retirement of [illegible] Owen D. Young and [illegible] Gerard Swope who have reached the company's age limit. GE [illegible] has [illegible] a dividend of 65 cents a share, making total disbursements for the year to date $1.[illegible] a share [illegible] 1938.

[illegible] were [illegible] by estimates of mounting business for these companies. A[illegible] for the fiscal year ended October 31 were [illegible] at about $[illegible] versus a net loss in 1938 of $[illegible].

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—With most wheat traders still on the sidelines prices held to a narrow range today, but were fairly steady. Scattered rains in the southwest yesterday and overnight were light, but continued unsettled weather in some districts was in prospect.

Opening 1-8 lower to 1-8 higher, December 87 1-2 to 5-8, May 85 1-2 to 5-8, wheat later showed little change. Corn started 1-8 to 1-4 up, December 50 1-2, May 52 5-8.

Wheat closed 1-8 to 1-2 lower than yesterday, December 87 1-4 to 3-8, May 85 1-8 to 1-4, corn 1-8 off to 1-8 up, May 50 1-4 to 3-8, May 52 3-8, oats unchanged to 1-4 down.

QUOTED STATEMENTS DENIED BY DUCHESS

HOBOKEN, N. J., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Duchess Eleanora of Bavaria, sister-in-law of Queen Mother Elizabeth of Belgium, said today she "never even had in mind" statements attributed to her when she arrived last Friday from Europe aboard the S. S. Veendam.

At that time she was quoted by the Associated Press as saying there was "likely to be a revolution in Germany." She also was described as expressing belief the war would not last; as saying Belgium would remain neutral "if England does not try to get over there"; and as adding Germany "seemingly" would not invade Belgium.

The duchess stated today she had been informed "certain shocking statements" attributed to her had been cabled to Europe and said it was possible "my imperfect pronunciation and knowledge of English might explain the extraordinary understanding."

She said that not only had she never had the statements in mind, but she never intended expressing any opinion of a political nature.

"It is a fact that throughout my life I have maintained the strictest reserve on all political questions," she added.

Governor Denounces Noe And Jones In Scathing Terms

[illegible]

"You're too late, Sam," Long said. "You and your gang fought the very things you're now promising but despite your efforts, the people are now enjoying the benefits given them by Huey Long and O. K. Allen. And I'll continue their policies."

Long charged that the Jones backers had put up a $350,000 campaign fund and that Jones was given $100,000 to enter the race.

"He's the only man in Louisiana [illegible] ever was paid to make the race," the governor said. "That fund they charge came from small contributions, nickels and dimes. There [illegible]

'BODY' IN RIVER SOUGHT BY LOCAL FIRE LADDIES

Members of the Monroe fire department rushed with the American Legion emergency truck to the Ouachita river near the old traffic bridge late yesterday afternoon to recover a "body" reported seen floating under the bridge, but they reported after a search that the cause of the alarm was probably a dead fish or a dead dog.

A man reported to Police Officer Alex Cornett that he had seen what appeared to have been a man's hand and arm sticking up through the water, and Officer Cornett summoned the firemen.

After searching over the area south of the bridge where the "body" was seen, firemen abandoned the search, saying they had seen several dead fish and a dead dog but no human body.

'JITTERBUGGING' RESULTS IN FIGHT

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Albert Clopek, 68, of West Newbury, does not like jitterbugging.

He paid a $50 fine in district court yesterday for clouting his son-in-law, Victor Desimone, 22, on the head with a log for refusing to stop "jitterbug dancing" in the house. Desimone was fined $15 for mutual assault.

"He danced like a horse," Clopek told the court.
